ATTEMPT MADE TO BOARD MARU

Two East Indians and Two Japanese Fishermen Taken Into Custody by Patrol of Immigration Service.

SEEKING TO PLACE PROVISIONS ON BOARD

No Definite Statement Made as to Suggested Hunger Strike—Counsel Bird Has New Proposal to Offer.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—This evening excitement was caused by an attempt of two East Indians and two Japanese from Vancouver to board the Komagata Maru with provisions. The Japanese, who are fishermen, took the East Indians in their launch and were chased and captured by the immigration department's patrol boat, the chief of the department, Mr. Malcolm Reid, being in charge.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the Japanese launch was seen to steal out from shore, making directly for the Komagata Maru. Those aboard the patrol boat, which was just about to leave the slip at C. P. R. Pier "A," gave chase. The Japanese boat had a considerable start, and before she was overhauled she had almost reached the Maru, down the gangway and around the rail of which the East Indians aboard crowded in great excitement.

Taken Into Custody

The immigration patrol quickly drew alongside, and the two East Indians and the two Japanese were at once taken into custody and escorted ashore. In their boat was found a comparatively small quantity of groceries, evidently intended for those aboard the Maru.

Ten minutes later saw the two swarthy, black-bearded and turbaned men and their Japanese companions sitting side by side upon a form in one of the rooms of the immigration shed, undergoing a cross-examination, the East Indians by a white interpreter, who spoke broken English, by Mr. Reid himself. Briefly, the result of this examination was that all admitted the offence, and after they had been sternly warned not to repeat it and told that the immigration people would be quite prepared to take any provisions aboard that the East Indians liked to bring to the detention shed, they were set free.

Possible Hunger Strike

A hunger strike or not a hunger strike—which is it? This is the question which it is not possible for the Immigration Department or the legal representative of the East Indians aboard the Komagata Maru to answer definitely, although, according to a somewhat hysterical extra published last night and containing no additional information beyond what had already appeared in the morning papers, the question had been answered beyond any possibility of doubt.

There is no doubt that the local immigration officials yesterday received a verbal message from the Hindus that they had decided to eat nothing further until they should be put ashore. On the other hand, Mr. J. Edward Bird, the legal representative here of the very same men, in the course of a two-hour conversation in English with Gurdit Singh, the leader of the East Indians, heard no mention of any such proceedings.

Mr. Bird determined yesterday afternoon to make another effort to get in touch with his client, and proceeded, together with several local East Indians, on a gasoline launch to the Komagata. This time he was permitted by the immigration authorities to hold converse with Gurdit Singh, who left the Komagata and boarded the barrister's boat. What happened during this conversation Mr. Bird would not divulge, but he stated that he would, tomorrow morning, have a proposition to put up to Mr. Reid which, he believed, would be a reasonable solution to the whole difficulty. An interesting feature of Mr. Bird's meeting with his client was the handing over to the barrister, by one Galdit Singh, of a document which stated that the East Indians aboard were starving and that no attention had been paid by the authorities to their demand for provisions.

HARDY BAY LAND DISPUTE

Purchasers of Ten Acres Bring Suit for Cancellation on Ground of Misrepresentation

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—Claiming that misrepresentations were made to them when they became parties to an agreement for the purchase of ten acres of land near Hardy Bay, on Vancouver Island, Charles Henry Bowes, a laborer, and his wife, are the plaintiffs in an action against the Western Farming & Colonization Company, Limited. The action is continuing before Mr. Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court.

The plaintiffs allege several misrepresentations. One of their claims is that the defendants, when the agreement was entered upon, represented that they were acting for the Government, and that the land was owned by the Government, and was part of a large section that was being opened up for settlement. Another allegation is that the defendants assured the plaintiffs that the land would be cleared, cultivated and cropped free of expense. On the ground that these representations were made, and alleging they were untrue, the plaintiffs ask for a cancellation of the agreement and for a return of the money paid.

The defence by a flat denial that any such representations were made as claimed. It is advanced that the plaintiffs had the fullest opportunity of investigating, and entered into the purchase with complete knowledge of all pertaining thereto.

AERIAL FERRY SERVICE

Two Flying Men Expect to Make Regular Trips Between Lincoln Park, Chicago, and Lake Forest

HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., June 4.—Charlie Wilmer, one of the flying boatmen of the Curtiss crew, is starting from here to Chicago to establish, in cooperation with Jack Vilas, the first regularly scheduled water and air ferry service in the world.

They, with Curtiss aerial boats, intend to maintain a ferry during the Summer months between the northern end of Lincoln Park, Chicago, and Lake Forest, thirty miles away. They expect the trip each way will take about thirty minutes.

What they are going to charge has not been settled. The City of Chicago has just finished building hangars for the flying boats near the quarters of the Chicago Yacht Club. Wilmer is going to fly the boat of Harold McCormick, who is John D. Rockefeller's son-in-law. Vilas has his own.

During the slack hours they will take up joy riders for ten-minute trips for $10.

JAPAN IS SWEPT BY WILD STORM

TOKIO, June 5.—A disastrous storm has swept over Western and Southern Japan. Several hundred boats have been wrecked, and hundreds of people are believed to have been drowned. The steamer Mongolia rescued many seamen. A hundred houses in Nagasaki have been blown down.

GERMANY'S RIVALRY

Strong Competitor With Britain for World's Shipping Supremacy—Interest Centred in Few Lines

LONDON, June 4.—Sir Owen Phillips, chairman of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Line, and a leading figure in British shipping circles, said yesterday regarding Germany's rivalry with Britain for the world's shipping:

"On every great trade route of the world you find that German ships are the only formidable rivals British shipping has to face. The fight for world supremacy in trade is being waged by German and British ships in every ocean.

"British trade is represented by some three hundred separate lines, with no unity of action, whereas German trade is centred in seven big lines.

"Behind them, using every power to secure their harmonious working and co-action is the greatest commercial director in the world—the Kaiser."

FESTIVAL OF ART BY AMATEURS

Unique Production to Be Staged Tonight by Large Company of Local Artists —Mammoth Undertaking.

On frequent occasions during the past few years, the amateurs of Victoria have shown to the theatre-going public of this city that they are capable of producing plays and shows of various kinds of a very high order. It is fully recognized that this city is fortunate in the possession of a great deal of talent in this direction. The performance to be given tonight at the Royal Victoria Theatre will undoubtedly eclipse all former entertainments put on by local amateurs.

Under the auspices of the Arts and Crafts Club a most elaborate programme has been prepared. The entertainment will take the form of a Festival of Art. It will consist of living pictures after the style of the great masters from the earliest Egyptian times down to the Victorian Era. Dances and songs typical of the music of each successive period will be given at intervals during the programme.

From this rough outline it may readily be seen that the promoters of the undertaking have had no light task in front of them. Each item on the lengthy programme is under the direction of one or more of the talented instructors, who have made a deep study of the various periods which the scenes and music represent. To put on a show of this magnitude means the training of a very large band of amateurs. The fact that Victoria has sufficient talent to stage such a production is of great interest, as it is doubtful if any other Western city could attempt such an elaborate entertainment.

Little has been heard of the valuable work which has been carried on by the Arts and Crafts Club of Victoria; but, as day after day, and month after month, the work has progressed, a love and appreciation of beautiful work has grown up amongst those who have taken part in the movement. The whole object of the club is to foster and cultivate a taste for art among the people of Victoria. For weeks members of the club have been busy planning, designing and preparing the festival which is to take place tonight. There is no doubt but that, on this occasion, those who have so earnestly carried on this labor of love for the preservation and achievement of art, will find expression and will have the opportunity to speak to a friendly and sympathetic audience. The members of the club and their friends will be made to feel that the movement, for which they have worked, has been given that impetus and encouragement which is so necessary to all young and growing things.

The Arts and Crafts Club, in presenting this programme, has asked for, and obtained most generously, the assistance of the sister arts, with the result that, in presenting this programme, there will be form and color, melody and grace, romance and poetry, a very perfect harmony.

IDENTIFIED BY THEIR HUSBANDS

Bodies of Mrs. James Duffy and Mrs. Charles Walton, of Vancouver, Found Among Those at Quebec.

EIGHT HUNDRED STILL IN STEAMER

Remains of Little Girl Washed Ashore Eighteen Miles Below Father Point—Vessel Cannot Be Raised.

QUEBEC, June 4.—The bodies of two Vancouver victims of the Empress of Ireland disaster were identified at the morgue in shed No. 27 last night soon after the arrival of a party from Vancouver. It was conducted by Staff Captain White, of the Salvation Army, who had come here to look for lost relatives. Mrs. James Duffy, of Vancouver, was identified by her husband, and Mrs. Chas. Walton, Vancouver, was also identified by her husband. The eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. Hart was recognized by her grandfather, H. L. Roach, of North Lake. In the party were H. L. Roach, North Lake, looking for the Hart family; H. H. Braithwaite, Estevan, for his wife and two boys; J. W. Taplin, Kamloops, for his wife and sister; G. W. Turner, for his wife and sister; J. H. Whitlaw, George White and W. H. Griffin, all of New Westminster, for their wives.

The following Vancouver people were searching for their loved ones: G. Davidson, for Mr. and Mrs. Cooper; James Duffy, for his wife; Harry Axton, for his wife and boy; Charles Walton, for his wife; Wm. White, for Mrs. Violet Weir, Mrs. Grafton, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clarke and Thomas Bishop. Only the three victims named were identified, and these bodies will be shipped to their respective homes tomorrow.

Cannot Raise Vessel

That the Canadian Pacific Company will not be able to raise the Empress of Ireland is practically certain from a statement made by an important executive official of the C. P. R. here today. Having applied his knowledge of the position of the ship to the prospect of raising her, the official announces that the Canadian Pacific Company has neither the equipment nor the means of raising the vessel.

Captain Walsh, of the company, when asked his opinion regarding raising the ship, said: "We have a great and solemn duty just before us. We must bury the dead that have been recovered. That is our first work. When that is finished we will think of these other problems."

The sunken Empress has aboard over $1,000,000 in value of silver bars, and there is no doubt some operation will be taken to get this from the hulk.

Sir Conan Doyle's Tribute

MONTREAL, June 4.—"There never is a disaster of any kind," said Sir Arthur Conan Doyle today in connection with the loss of the Empress, "in which one is not enormously struck by the beauty of human nature. People talk about the original sin, the natural weakness of mankind; but I think it is

OFFICERS FALL WITH SEAPLANE

Commander Rice and Lieutenant Creswell, of British Navy, Meet Death While Flying Near Portsmouth.

ACCIDENT CREDITED TO AN EXPLOSION

PORTSMOUTH, England, June 4.—Commander Rice and Lieutenant Creswell were drowned today when a seaplane in which they were making a flight over Southampton waters suddenly plunged into the sea. The seaplane was engaged with several others in air craft in manoeuvering.

A torpedo boat rushed to the spot and recovered Creswell's body, which was strapped to the seat, but the body of Commander Rice was not found.

The seaplane was one of the largest in the naval service, and was of the latest model. It had a wing span of 63 feet, carried a 200 horse power engine, and was equipped with wireless. The condition of the machine indicated that the accident was due to an explosion, attributed to the ignition of escaping petrol fumes by a sparking wireless apparatus.

Funeral of Mrs. Millard

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—Signal marks of regret and a reverent demonstration of sympathy marked the services today at the funeral of Mrs. Clara Burdette Millard. First Baptist Church was filled with a very large congregation, and three ministers took part in the services. The floral offerings were very beautiful and were massed about the coffin, which was borne to Mount View cemetery, attended by many relatives and friends.

Week's Immigration

WINNIPEG, June 4.—During the week ending June 4, 2,925 immigrants, more than half of them British, landed at ocean ports for Western Canada. Of the total 525 came from the Old Country, 95 were Poles, 90 Italians, 75 Swedes and 100 French.

MATTER OF PRECEDENCE

Dispute Between Corporation of London and County Council Crops Up at Awkward Time

LONDON, June 4.—The rivalry between the corporation of the historic city of London and the comparatively modern London County Council found expression today in Paris, where the Mayors and Councillors of five great countries were being entertained.

Viscount Peel, the chairman of the County Council, not only rose to reply to the address of welcome when everybody expected Sir Thos. Bowater, the Lord Mayor, to speak, but, when signing the golden book in which Paris preserves the names of famous visitors, placed his name above the signature of the Lord Mayor.

This comedy of precedence has greatly upset the Parisians, who place the Lord Mayor of London as second only to the King of England, with his famous coachman as a good third. In London it is regarded as regrettable that such an incident should take place at a foreign capital, and here the claim of the Lord Mayor to precedence is everywhere upheld.

Accident to Aviator MacAulay

BEETON, Ont., June 4.—MacAulay, the Curtiss Company aviator, who recently thrilled Toronto people with exhibitions of his flying skill, sustained a serious accident while giving an exhibition here yesterday. The engine of his aeroplane gave out while he was sixty feet in the air and the machine and man fell to the ground. MacAulay was picked up with a broken leg and one of his arms and his back injured. The aeroplane was almost completely wrecked.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH GROWTH

Report to General Assembly This Year Best Yet Submitted—Expense of Victoria Meeting Considered.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., June 4.—The most encouraging report in many years with reference to the growth of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was made to the General Assembly by its clerk this afternoon.

The report showed that the denomination now has over 300,000 communicants, and for all purposes raises over $5,000,000 each year. There were over 10,000 Presbyterian elders in the communion, and over 4,000 preaching stations. During the past year 18,000 communicants were received on profession of their faith, and about 25,000 on certificate from other churches. The net gain in membership during the year was 13,367.

Best Report Yet Presented

The financial depression which has existed in all parts of Canada during the last eighteen months did not affect the work of the church in any respect. Rev. John Somerville, who has for many years had charge of the preparation of the statistics, declared that the report presented this year was the best he had ever known. A deeper interest was being manifested by men of all classes in spiritual affairs and effect was being felt in all religious undertakings. In the Presbyterian Church this had been in part due to the great congress in Toronto last year, when every minister of the church was present. New visions gained at that time had manifested themselves in great efforts and renewed consecration.

The item of greatest interest at the sessions of the assembly today was an announcement made by the Rev. Dr. Grant with reference to the congress held in Toronto in 1913.

It had been estimated in 1912 the cost of holding this congress would be about $100,000. The plan of Dr. Grant at that time was that this sum would be contributed by ten Presbyterians, each of whom would give $10,000.

Contributions to Congress Fund

It was also part of the plan that one of these Presbyterians should be in each of ten Canadian cities. This plan to a large extent was carried out. No announcement was, however, made until today regarding the identity of the men who were giving the money.

This announcement was made by the Rev. Dr. Grant at the afternoon meeting of the assembly. From this it appears that Western Canada responded to the appeal of Dr. Grant in a somewhat better way than Eastern Canada, in each of the cities of Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver, friends of the church were found ready to give $10,000 for this important purpose. In Winnipeg the sum was contributed by the Rev. Charles W. Gordon, in Regina by James Balfour, in Calgary by T. J. S. Stainner, and in Edmonton by A. Cleland. The name of the donor in Vancouver is withheld. In Eastern Canada two $10,000 subscriptions were received, one from the City of Toronto and one from the City of Woodstock, in New Brunswick. The names of these donors were withheld, other gifts being announced as follows: From an unknown friend in Toronto,

KARLUK'S CREW SAFE

Captain Bartlett Thinks They Have Plentiful Supply of Provisions—He Expects to Come South

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 4.—Advices from St. Michael's say that Captain A. Bartlett, of the Stefansson Arctic ship Karluk, is confident that the crew, who are stranded on Wrangel Island, have sufficient provisions to last until a relief ship reaches them.

Captain Bartlett, who made his way over the ice from Wrangel Island to the Siberian coast with one Eskimo and a dog team, and thence was carried to St. Michael's by the whaler Herman, expects to sail from Nome to Seattle on the first steamer.

He says that the Karluk, crushed by ice, sank sixty miles north of Herald Island, January 16. The men provisioned sledges and fought their way over the ice to safety.

ALBANIAN IMBROGLIO

Affairs in Little Kingdom Appear to Be in Hopeless Tangle—Several Groups Disputing

LONDON, June 4.—Dr. Dillon, in a dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Durazzo says the Albanian imbroglio has grown more entangled than ever, and the situation is again critical. The insurrectionary movement is spreading. Several towns around Durazzo the capital, have been captured by the rebels.

The commission of control is at loggerheads with the Cabinet, and the Cabinet is not in complete harmony with the King. A number of the gendarmes have deserted their posts and gone over to the insurgents. The peaceful population is divided into Autrophile, Turcophile, Italophile and Nationalist sections.

The insurgents themselves are at sixes and sevens respecting their attitude toward Turkey, and the result of these dissensions is chaos. The whole Albanian people, whose vital interest is order, tranquility and good government, are now split up into rebels and Nationalist politicians and intriguers who spend their days doing nothing useful, but planning how to destroy the little achieved by others.

RAILWAY BOARD HERE ON MONDAY

Chief Commissioner Drayton and Commissioner Goodeve Now at Vancouver—Heavy List of Cases Ready.

MR. DRAYTON SPEAKS OF WESTERN RATES

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—Messrs. H. L. Drayton, K. C., chief commissioner, Mr. A. S. Goodeve, commissioner, Mr. R. Richardson, secretary, and Mr. Nelson R. Butcher, official reporter, constitute the personnel of the Dominion Railway Commission who arrived in this city this evening on the private car Acadia. They will hold a sitting in Victoria on Monday and in Vancouver on Wednesday and Thursday. There is a long list of cases to come before the commission here.

In a statement to the representative of The Colonist, Mr. Drayton stated that the new tariffs constituted under the recent freight rates decision of the commission would become effective on September 1. The different schedules, which were necessarily lengthy and detailed, were being printed and would be forwarded not only to all Canadian railway companies, but to American roads having Canadian connections.

Asked if he intended to make a statement at the local sittings setting forth the chief points and effect of the decision, Mr. Drayton said: "I think they are pretty well understood by interested parties. They have been set forth as clearly as possible, leaving no question of doubt as to their meaning."

He said that no complaint had been received against the decision by any railway company.

"There is no appeal, because it is not a question of law," he stated.

During the trip West the commissioners stopped off at Calgary. When asked for an impression of the oil boom, Mr. Drayton said that Alberta was much excited over the matter. "But you do not need anything of the kind in Vancouver, because you are already pretty well off here," he added.

KING ADDRESSED BY SUFFRAGETTE

Militant Gains Access to Court in Buckingham Palace — Wild Women Threaten to Commit More Sacrilege.

LONDON, June 4.—The King and Queen held court at Buckingham Palace tonight, and, in spite of all precautions, a militant suffragette gained access to their presence and caused an interruption to the presentations.

As she was passing the King the suffragette dropped on her knees and shouted, "Your Majesty, for God's sake do not use force."

The woman was attired in court dress, and her action caused profound astonishment. She continued to admonish the King, but her words were inaudible, as the conductor of the band in the gallery was quick to observe the incident, signalled to the band to play louder, and the woman's voice was drowned.

She was removed from the room and handed over to the police. The name of the woman is not known, and close inquiries are being made as to how she obtained a card of admission.

The scene, which gave a shock to those in the immediate vicinity of the royal circle, was very brief, and the assemblage generally had scarcely any knowledge of what was happening.

Her Presence a Mystery

Whether the woman was one of the invited guests who sympathized with the suffrage movement, or an intruder who gained admission by forged card, is still unknown. It is difficult, however, to imagine how any person could have gained access to the court on a forged invitation, as the police had knowledge of a conspiracy to approach the royal presence, and every guest and every carriage arriving at Buckingham Palace tonight had been subject to close inspection by the detectives—a unique

MOTHER JONES DEBARRED

Prevented by Immigration Officer From Boarding Boat for Vancouver—Planned to Address Miners

SEATTLE, Wash., June 4.—"Mother" Mary Jones, who was prevented by a Canadian immigration official from boarding a steamer for Vancouver, B. C., today announced tonight that she would leave for Denver tomorrow.

She said she would continue her work in connection with the Colorado coal strike, pending action on her appeal to Secretary of Labor Wilson to obtain consent from the Canadian Government for her to go to Nanaimo, B. C., to address the miners there, who have been on strike for several months.

ASSISTANCE FOR G. T. PACIFIC

Bill Providing for Guarantee of Bonds to Amount of Sixteen Million Dollars Introduced in House.

QUESTION RELATING TO EASTERN LINES

Measure Abolishing Office of Commissioner Is Read Second Time — Naturalization Bill Is Finally Passed.

OTTAWA, June 4.—In the Commons today a resolution providing for a $16,000,000 bond guarantee for the G. T. P. to complete the mountain section of the line was passed after a short discussion. The bill based upon it was introduced and read a first time.

The bill to vest the powers now possessed by Major R. W. Leonard, N. T. R. Commissioner, in the Minister of Railways, was given a second reading.

Naturalization Bill

Hon. C. H. Doherty's Naturalization bill, which have been the subject of much discussion, was finally disposed of. Amendments to the Dominion Land Act to bring the homestead laws into conformity with the new naturalization act were introduced and considered.

Messrs. E. M. Macdonald and Frank Oliver objected to the provision in the Naturalization Bill which requires that applicants in Saskatchewan and Alberta must go before a judge instead of making affidavit before a commissioner. The latter said there were more people living at a distance from the courts in the West at the present time than five years ago. It would be necessary in order to establish proof, not only for an applicant, but for his neighbors, to give evidence.

Premier Borden said that if it should be shown that these objections were well founded the Legislatures of the two Provinces could make slight amendments to their acts governing the judges, by providing that they could sit in court at any time or place to consider cases relating to naturalization. He thought it advisable that there should be a certain formality in connection with these proceedings, and that they should not be conducted on "a penny in the slot" basis.

Several other less important bills were finally disposed of. In the evening the estimates of the Department of Railways were taken up and good progress made with them.

Grand Trunk Pacific Affairs

In connection with the G. T. P. aid resolution Premier Borden stated that in the negotiations which had taken place with the G. T. P. officials, including Mr. Smithers, president of the G. T. board, no intimation had been given to the Government that it is not the intention of the G. T. P. to take over and operate the Eastern lines when completed. He announced that the road would be completed late next Autumn.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the line would be finished, but the N. T. R. would not really be completed until terminals were established at Quebec. In connection with this work he charged that there had been unnecessary delay.

During the consideration of the second G. T. P. bill, Mr. E. M. Macdonald charged that it was simply a plan on the part of the Government to get rid of Major Leonard because he had a mind of his own and would not carry out the ideas of Hon. L. P. Pelletier at Quebec.

Premier Borden stated that Mr. Leonard might retire before the completion of the road because of his private interests, but denied that there had been any friction betwen the Commissioner and the Government.

Mr. Macdonald accused the Minister of Railways of neglecting his duties in the House in order to lay plans in connection with the Ontario elections. Hon. G. E. Foster, in reply, said that Mr. Cochrane was hard at work attending

SALVATIONIST OFFICERS

Army's Official Organ Makes Reference to Commissioner Rees and Others Dead in Wreck

LONDON, June 4.—The Salvation Army's official organ, The War Cry, contains some impressive references to Commissioner Rees and Mrs. Rees, Colonel and Mrs. Maidment and other Salvationists, "who were suddenly transported from the River St. Lawrence to the Celestial City."

"The promoted commissioner," says The War Cry, "was a striking example of the truly democratic principles underlying the organization of the Salvation Army. He himself said in earlier days that he had despaired of ever making an officer, but orders have now come direct from heavenly headquarters. Commissioner Rees has been interrupted while on his earthly journey on the business of his King by a summons to report himself for higher service. God's will be done."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Colonist of June 5, 1864)

The Overland Telegraph—From Mr. Haines, superintendent of the Overland Telegraph Company in Oregon, we learn that the line to Victoria will be pushed forward with the utmost possible dispatch. The poles are now set on the other side of the Willamette River. The line from Portland to Olympia will be finished in August. Mr. Haines suggested that from the latter place the line be run to Seattle, Port Gamble and Port Discovery, to Port Angeles, thence via Protection Beachy Head and Victoria, thence to New Westminster. The cable to be sent all the way from England in the ship Thebes.

Dr. Livingstone—The public will be glad to learn that Dr. Livingstone is alive and well and in communication with the friends at the Cape.

More Indian Disturbances—On Thursday some statement regarding the Indians with liquor, and, as is always the case when they are intoxicated, started fighting with the result that many were injured and one killed.

A "Rush"—On Saturday morning the greatest excitement prevailed in Mr. Donald's drafts had been turned down by [illegible] bank at San Francisco, made on the bank here, but the matter came out all right through some bills being sent back through a mistake.

TWO SURVIVORS RETURN HOME

Mrs. Cook and Bandsman Fowler Only Living Members of Salvation Army Party Who Left Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, June 4.—The arrival home this evening of the tragically small remnant of the large and happy party which left Vancouver two weeks ago to sail on the ill-fated Empress of Ireland was a scene of poignant sorrow. Of that party only two—Mrs. George Cook and Bandsman John Fowler—live to tell the story of that great tragedy. By a coincidence their arrival at the C. P. R. depot was almost a week to an hour, allowing for the three hours' difference in time, from the time when the disaster occurred.

Return in Sorrow

On their departure with their foredoomed traveling companions they were given a cherry send-off, with the Salvation Army band playing and amid cheers and excitement. They returned shaken in health and spirits to be received in solemn silence by the same officers and Army comrades who had bade them Godspeed two weeks ago.

Both had borne the long journey Westward fairly well, being assiduously attended by officials of the company, but the sight of their loved ones proved too much for their fortitude, and both broke down. There were few dry eyes among their comrades during the brief and broken greetings before they were assisted to waiting automobiles and conveyed to their homes.

There were about 150 members of the Army on the depot platform when the train drew in at 9:15. They were headed by Staff-Captain Crichton and Adjutant Gosling. Nearly all of the forty-four members of the No. 1 band, of which Mr. Fowler is a member, were present. On Cordova Street, near the entrance to the depot, a crowd of about 500 were gathered, and when the two autos drew up the hill from the wharf every hat was raised as a token of respect and sympathy. Mr. Cook went up the line to Mission to meet his wife, while their three children, a boy of 21, a girl of 11 and a boy of 5 met them at the station.

Meet Their Children

Mrs. Fowler and her three children, a boy of 10 and girls aged 7 and 3, were also there to meet their husband and father. As soon as the train came in Mrs. Fowler and her three children were ushered into the car to meet him, and the first fond greetings were in private. Mr. Fowler was so weak that he had to be assisted off the train. He was greeted by several of his chief officers and band comrades. At the sight of them he broke into tears and had to be carried to his auto. He was quite lame in his right leg, and stated that he was unable to make any statement of his experiences.

Mrs. Cook was supported up the platform by her husband to where the children awaited them. As soon as she caught sight of them she fell on her knees and clasped the two little ones to her breast. Her only comment on her trying experience was that she did not know how she was rescued.

perfect blasphemy to talk in that way. I think that man is full of the most wonderful unselfishness, of the most beautiful qualities, which are only revealed in the lightning flash of some terrible moment, when they spring to the surface. I think the most wonderful thing about humanity, when you come to think about it, is its unselfishness, its power to give everything up for the sake of the common weal.

"I knew Laurence Irving well. He was a man of a beautiful, idealistic turn of mind, a man timid by nature, but a man with spirit in him to meet a great crisis."

Storstad Still in Custody

The application of the owners of the Norwegian collier Storstad, which sank the Empress of Ireland last Friday morning, to be permitted to put up a bond in connection with the C. P. R. Company's claim for $2,000,000 and be allowed to depart from the port of Montreal, was today postponed until next Monday by agreement of counsel for both sides. In the meantime the Storstad remains a "prisoner" under the order of the Admiralty Court.

Eight Hundred in Steamer

Over 800 bodies are entombed in the sunken Empress of Ireland. Interest here now centres in the disposition of the submerged liner. The official announcement of the names of the saved and the lost, and the report late last night from Captain Pouliot, of the Government steamer Lady Grey, that careful cruising of the waters for miles below the scene of the disaster has failed to find further dead, has been followed by keen public anxiety to learn the plans of the authorities as to the disposition of the ill-fated vessel. Many relatives here who have failed to identify their lost among the bodies already taken from the waters will remain in Quebec until the C. P. R. decides what action it will take.

The body of the little girl washed ashore at Metis beach, some eighteen miles below Father Point, reached here this morning. The child is a beautiful girl. There are no bruises on her body. The ruddiness of her appearance is in striking contrast to the pallor of the other bodies recovered. The officials believe the remains to be those of the daughter of Frank Brooks, a Salvation Army officer of Toronto. When the little coffin was opened it was found that a bouquet of forget-me-nots had been placed in the dead child's hand, with a card written in round, girlish hand: "Kindly accept my kindest and sincerest sympathy. May she rest in peace. If identified, I would like to know." It was signed by Eileen Tuggy, the thirteen-year-old girl who found the body on the beach. Across the tiny form, too, there was a wreath of lilies of the valley, evidently woven by sympathetic amateur hands, attached to which was a note pencilled: "As a token of respect from those who found her."

St. Petersburg Bourse Idle

LONDON, June 4.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to The Times says business on the Bourse was at a standstill, owing to the cessation of foreign investments. In order to attract capital to the country, the dispatch adds, the Emperor is in favor of removing certain disabilities affecting the participation of Jews in joint stock companies.

PARCEL POST WITH JAPAN

Rate to Be Reduced to Twelve Cents a Pound and Weight Limit Raised to Eleven Pounds

OTTAWA, June 4.—The announcement was made today that Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, had entered into a new agreement with Japan for the direct exchange of parcels, under which the present rate of 20c a pound will be reduced to 12c a pound, and the present limit weight of seven pounds increased to eleven pounds.

The new agreement is to take effect from September 1, 1914. It will be a decided improvement on previous arrangements, and will, no doubt, lead to an increased volume of parcels post business between the two countries.

NO FRENCH MINISTRY

M. Vivian Unable to Submit Names to President Poincare—Leon Bourgeois Declines Office

PARIS, June 4.—The French Ministry to replace that headed by Premier Doumergue, which resigned on June 2, has not been formed.

Rene Viviani, the former Minister of Public Instruction, who was requested yesterday by President Poincare to organize a Cabinet, was unable to submit a list to the President tonight, but promised a definite answer tomorrow.

The delay is understood to be due to a desire to have Leon Bourgeois accept the portfolio of the Foreign Office, but he at first declined on the same ground as he refused the presidential nomination in 1913, poor health.

$7,000; from John Penman, in Paris, Ont., $5,000; Hon. E. H. Bronson, of Ottawa, $5,000. Subscriptions of $1,000 each were received from J. G. Ross, Montreal; David Morrice, Montreal, and M. Yuill, Montreal.

Neared $100,000 Mark

The total subscriptions to the congress fund were $26,486, and the total expenditure $35,117. Of the amounts subscribed for this fund, about $75,000 has been paid in cash, the stringency in the money market being responsible for the slowness in the payment of the large contributions. The balance will be paid during the current year. In the meantime the church is relieved of all responsibility in the matter.

During the afternoon the assembly decided to relieve one of its ministers from the duties of the pastorate for a five-year period, and to allow him to visit the church choirs in all parts of Canada with a view to betterment of the service of praise. The pastor selected for this work was the Rev. Alex. McMillan, for a number of years in charge of the congregation at Mimico.

The church is at the present time engaged in the preparation of a new hymnal, which will appear in the year 1915.

Expense of Victoria Meeting

An interesting discussion took place during the day regarding a proposal to reduce the number of commissioners sent to the General Assembly. At the present time one minister in six is elected. The proposition is to reduce the number so that only one minister in eight will be sent. The question has been discussed in the assembly for many years. It is raised at the present time owing to the fact that the assembly in 1915 will probably meet in Victoria, B. C. It is estimated that the cost of the meeting in Victoria for traveling expenses alone will be about $40,000. The presbyteries were asked last year to order a reduction in the number of commissioners, but they refused by a large majority to do so. The assembly today decided to ask the presbyteries again to reduce the number of commissioners. It is believed, however, that the request will again be refused, since the benefit of the gatherings both to the ministers and the church is very large.

At the evening meeting tonight addresses were made on the subject of home missions by Principal McKinnon, of Halifax, and Dr. A. S. Grant, of Toronto.

precaution and one that caused considerable delay and not a little indignation in court circles.

Tonight's incident is calculated to produce a feeling of still greater exasperation in the public mind, and renewed demands for strong measures to suppress the suffragette agitation.

According to The Times, the woman apparently was provided with a proper card of admission. She fell on both knees, and cried in a shrill voice, which was audible throughout the throne room: "Your Majesty, won't you stop torturing women?"

Sir Douglas Robinson, comptroller of the Lord Chamberlain's department, assisted in carrying her out. Eyewitnesses describe the bearing of Their Majesties as a masterpiece of dignity and composure.

The woman was young and rather conspicuously dressed.

Subscribers May Suffer

The Times understands that the Crown lawyers are of the opinion that subscribers to the suffragist funds come within the law, and their property can be attached for damage done.

Striking scenes were witnessed tonight at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union. Mrs. Mansell presided and threatened the London editors with the fate of the two Belfast editors who were assaulted yesterday by militant suffragettes who visited them at their offices. Mrs. Mansell referred to the report that subscribers to the fund would be prosecuted, and said she wondered whether the Government would dare to prosecute the Liberal ladies who had subscribed.

The audience became hysterically excited, cheering all references to violence and greeting the mention of the Government and police with cries of "Animals!" "Serve the brutes right!" and "Let the editors beware!"

Next week the Women's Social and Political Union will observe a self-denial week. The names of donors of money and jewelry will not be disclosed, as a precaution against any attempt on the part of the Government to seize the offerings or prosecute the donors.

General Mrs. Flora Drummond was rearrested tonight just outside Buckingham palace under the "cat and mouse act."

The vicar of the Wargrave Church, recently burned, received today an anonymous suffragette threat that St. Mary's Church at Reading would be the next building dealt with.

STILL WAITING FOR DECISION

Mediators to Get No Word From Carranza Until He Arrives at Saltillo—More Constitutionalist Successes.

NIAGARA FALLS, June 4.—Mediation waited another day for word from General Carranza on Constitutionalist participation at the conference here, but no word came.

The silence was regarded as a favorable omen, for it was interpreted as meaning that the Constitutionalists were carefully weighing the advantages of mediation. A feeling of confidence was general that they would take the hand extended them and enter the negotiations.

There were no conferences again today between the mediators and either group of the delegates.

An answer from Carranza, or at least an intimation of its character, is expected tomorrow. Should the Constitutionalists decide to send delegates there will be a delay of a few days, as the mediators have asked them to send their representatives at their convenience, affording time for information by General Carranza. In that event, the mediators may declare a short recess.

Carranza Delays

EL PASO, Tex., June 4.—General Carranza announced today through agents here that he would not make an answer to the communication of the A. B. C. mediators, nor issue his proclamation dealing with the formation of a provisional government in Northern Mexico, until he reached Saltillo. At the same time it was announced here that the Constitutionalist commander-in-chief departed today from Durango on his way to Saltillo by way of Torreon.

Colima Captured

MAZATLAN, June 4.—Colima, capital of the state of that name, and one of the most important cities in Southwestern Mexico, has fallen into the hands of the Constitutionalists, led by General Alamilla, former governor of Colima, according to official information furnished Rear-Admiral Howard today.

Guadalajara, the objective point of the recent operations of the Constitutionalists of the northwest, under command of General Obregon, has been surrounded. Three columns of Obregon's army, according to official information reaching Admiral Howard, have succeeded in shutting off the city from the national capital on the east and Manzanillo and the Pacific Coast on the west.

More Successes

DURANGO, Mex., via El Paso, Tex., June 4.—The towns of Tantima and Tantoyuca, in the state of Vera Cruz, have been captured by the Constitutionalists under General Candido Aguilar, new governor of that state, according to messages received today by General Carranza.

General Aguilar has occupied a large portion of the country, and has established civil and military authorities in office and offered full guarantees to commerce and industry. All railroad and telegraph lines as far south as the northern part of Hidalgo have been opened to traffic, and General Aguilar was given orders to push the campaign against the Federals to the south, with the troops of General Blanco and General Natoria closing in on Guadalajara and Zacatecas respectively.

RAIN WORTH MILLIONS

Prairie Grain Crops Materially Helped by Moisture of Yesterday—Now in Good Condition

WINNIPEG, June 4.—Heavy rains throughout the West where most required have put the Western Canadian crop in good condition.

The vast country from Pierson, Manitoba, to Medicine Hat, Alberta, was treated during the past twenty-four hours to a rain of from one to three inches. It came at the right moment. But rain has been general and at many places it is raining today.

"It means millions," was the remark of more than one man on the grain exchange this morning. This thought has found an echo in all places in the West. June is indeed maintaining her reputation as the growing month. The dupe rains have come.

Swamp Lands in Prairie Provinces

OTTAWA, June 4.—Hon. J. A. Calder and Hon. Charles Stewart, representing Saskatchewan and Alberta, held a conference yesterday with Hon. W. J. Roche, regarding the reclamation of swamp lands in the Prairie Provinces. Crown lands are non-assessable, and the Provincial Governments find it impossible to carry out reclamation work. After the conference, Mr. E. F. Drake, Commissioner of Irrigation, will be instructed to formulate a scheme to meet the situation, which will be submitted to the Provincial Governments for criticism, and afterwards, if possible, some arrangements will be made to permit necessary reclamation work.

to the business of the department, but, in order not to impair his health, which was considerably improved by his trip abroad, he desired to avoid the excitement of the House.

Port Nelson Work

Just before the House rose, Mr. E. M. Macdonald introduced a discussion on the Hudson's Bay Railway terminals at Port Nelson. He wanted to know if the Government proposed to pursue the same policy as last year, when various vessels were sent North, several of which met with mishaps. Did the Government intend to continue its policy of having its work done with day labor?

Mr. Macdonald expressed his view that the Government, instead of pursuing the present policy, would be wise to give the work of constructing terminals at Nelson to some reliable contracting firm.

Hon. J. D. Reid prefaced his reply by the statement that there was absolutely no truth, so far as the department knew, in the story published in The Ottawa Citizen in regard to the cruel treatment of the men working on the Hudsons Bay contracts. He said that the Government proposed to pursue the same policy as last year in regard to the work at Nelson. A number of steamers would go North with supplies. A couple of steamers had been purchased, as this was the cheaper way. The Minister believed that the department would have better luck this year and that good headway would be made on the work of providing terminals.

Mr. Macdonald repeated that the Government was simply frittering away money, and that nothing would be accomplished by the present policy.

Replying to a question by Hon. R. Lemieux, Premier Borden said that the Government had considered the question of doing something for the survivors of the Empress of Ireland disaster. No decision had yet been made owing to lack of information. Needless to say, he added, the Government would take suitable action before the close of the session.

ROSSLAND MAN SAFE

Single Passenger From Boundary Was in Empress Disaster—Council Deliberations

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 4.—The anxiety in regard to the safety of Eric J. Erickson, the only Rossland passenger on the wrecked Empress of Ireland, was dispelled by the receipt of a telegram from Erickson at Quebec containing the two words: "Saved. Erickson." It was addressed to his two brothers here, C. A. and C. E. Erickson.

The City Council is bringing in an amendment to the Streets Regulation By-Law, making eight miles per hour applicable to motor cars as well as other vehicles.

Milk dealers have succeeded in getting the City Council to postpone for thirty days the enforcement of the Cattle Exclusion By-Law, which was to go into effect June 1. They want to move their dairies.

The Traders' License By-Law, found objectionable by typewriter agents recently, on account of the license fee of $50 for doing business every six months, is being amended to permit the Mayor to grant permission to canvass the city on condition that six local merchants consent. If so, the fee will be $5.

EASEMENTS SECURED

Esquimalt Municipality Reaches Agreement With Property Holders

Having reached a satisfactory settlement with the contractors, Messrs. Hugh Macdonald and Agnew & Young, with respect to the employment of aliens, members of the Esquimalt Council report that splendid progress is being made on the sewer work in the district. They state that the force of men employed is being increased so that the fullest possible advantage may be taken of the present good weather, and all workmen in the municipality wishing to get employment either have been or are about to be satisfied.

In "Section D," where Messrs. Agnew & Young are in charge, the advances made in the two weeks or more that they have been engaged is considered remarkable. They now have men excavating on Munro Street, and arrangements have been made to run a sewer from Munro to Charles Streets, easements having been secured through four different properties to permit the project to proceed without interruption. Negotiations with property holders for right-of-way for a line extending from Dominion to Stanley Streets also have been successful.

FOURSCORE AND TEN REACHED BY PIONEER

Hon. Dr. J. S. Helmcken Celebrates Ninetieth Birthday and Enjoys Excellent Health —Sixty-Four Years Here.

Just ninety years ago today in London, Eng., Victoria's most widely known pioneer citizen and a gentleman who enjoys the respect and esteem of the people of British Columbia to a marked degree, first saw the light. The heartiest congratulations will be extended to him on his present excellent health.

The "Doctor," as Hon. J. S. Helmcken is invariably called by his wide circle of friends and acquaintances, is a familiar figure on the streets of the city, as he makes it a practice to take an outing in the open air each day. His walks usually lead him along Government Street and other downtown thoroughfares. Despite his weight of years, weather conditions have no terrors for him; and during many a day, when cold winds have been blowing and most pedestrians have been clad in heavy garments, Dr. Helmcken might be seen briskly plodding along with no overcoat.

The writer had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Helmcken during the course of one of these walks a few days ago, and, the occasion being opportune, said to him:

"Doctor, what is your recipe for longevity?"

"Oh, I don't know," came the answer, with a laugh, "I think simple food, a determination not to worry, and keeping out of doors as much as possible, are as good as anything."

The doctor added that length of years in human beings seemed to run in families. There was no assurance that the descendants of a nonagenarian would reach a very old age, but the chances were that they would live longer than those whose progenitors had been short-lived.

Dr. Helmcken lives very simply and quietly with his daughter, Mrs. Higgins, at the old homestead at 638 Elliott Street, which stands on the famous estate of the late Sir James Douglas, whose daughter, Cecilia, he married in 1852.

Mrs. Helmcken, who was a most devoted wife and mother, has preceded him to the home beyond, and of their seven children three are now living, namely: Amelia, the wife of Mr. G. A. McTavish; Dr. James Douglas Helmcken, and Edith Louisa Higgins.

The Hon. Dr. Helmcken, after practicing his profession with success in the Old Country for some years, received an appointment as clerk and colonial surgeon to the Hudson's Bay Company on Vancouver Island. He sailed at the beginning of 1850 with eighty pioneer emigrants on the ship Norman Morrison, which reached Esquimalt in March. Since that time, from the building of the first house to the last, he has maintained his residence in this city.

Dr. Helmcken has, as is well known, occupied several positions in the public life of the country. In 1855 he was honored by being elected to the first Legislative Assembly of Vancouver Island. After Confederation he voluntarily retired from public life, but he has never ceased to take an active interest in all that concerns the welfare of the community.

DISCUSS LOCAL RENTS

Rotary Club Members Express Opinions as to Charges of Victoria Landlords

At the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club, held yesterday at the Westholme Hotel, there was an interesting discussion of the present rents charged by the landlords of Victoria. Mr. T. B. Monk, who delivered the day's address, said that there was not an owner of a business block in the city realizing more than 4 or 5 per cent on his investment. Rents had been put down in some instances to fill the buildings and, in others, the old rates had been maintained, with the result that there were many empty offices.

His opinion was that an effort was being made to make Victoria too good for a community of its size. With strict building by-laws and local improvements in the way of pavements, lights, etc., the landlord was directly affected. As he had to pay for these luxuries, the fact that he was getting higher rents than prevailed in some Eastern cities, did not mean that he was making more money.

A rental commission to regulate rates, he presumed, would allow the owners the bank interest of 7 or 8 per cent, which would mean that the charges would be heavier than at present. That being the case he suggested that those interesting themselves in such a movement forbear.

Mr. J. O. Cameron, following Mr. Monk, stated that the landlord whose property was carrying itself now was doing well as, when business became better, he would be in a position to realize substantial profits.

It was a fact, asserted Mr. Jesse M. Warren, that there were some local buildings making 10 per cent for their owners. He believed that the trouble arose in regulating the size of the building erected with the cost of the land. If a property cost $200,000, its accommodation should be in proportion.

Mr. W. J. Arnold declared that rents were too high, but he thought that, as the outlying districts became populated, they would regulate themselves.

A comparison of local rents with those of Toronto was made by Mr. J. D. O'Connell, who said that those of this city were altogether out of proportion.

Mr. Frank Higgins, the president, declared that rents were high because of the taxes. The taxes were excessive because of the many improvements being paid for. These made for attractiveness which helped increase the population. As the number of people here increased the value of property would grow. This being true he did not think that the owners should demand the standard rates of interest on their investments under present conditions.

PREMISES CONDEMNED

City Council Hears Further Complaints Against Insanitary Structures—Another Session Next Week

Further consideration was given by the City Council yesterday morning to the list of structures on which sanitary officials recently reported adversely and recommended condemnation proceedings. Last week about one-half of the sixty-five premises complained of was disposed of, and the greater number of the balance was dealt with yesterday. Another session will be held next Thursday, when the remainder of the complaints will be disposed of.

The objections taken by Mr. E. M. Johnson, agent for the owner of premises at 712 Burdette Avenue, occupied the board for a considerable time. Mr. Johnson denied that the premises were in the condition stated by the health officer. Another case in which Mr. Johnson was interested was that of the cottage and stable at the corner of Esquimalt Road and Dundas Street. Condemnation of the Burdette Avenue premises was ordered, and the stable on Esquimalt Road was also ordered to be demolished, while the cottage must be put into a proper state within thirty days, otherwise it will be pulled down.

Denial of the officials' statement that the premises at 837 Fort Street were insanitary was made by Mr. A. W. Bridgman, agent for the premises, and the tenant was also present to assert the sanitary condition of the structures. The board left this case over until an inspection may be made.

In a number of cases the owners or agents failed to put in an appearance, and the premises were condemned and orders for their immediate demolition issued.

PREMIER SATISFIED WITH C. N. R. AID BILL

Sir Richard McBride Has Faith in Future Ahead of Canadian Northern—"Will Pay and Pay Handsomely."

Apropos of the fact that the Canadian Northern Railway Aid Bill has just passed its third reading in the House of Commons at Ottawa, Sir Richard McBride, interviewed by The Colonist yesterday, took occasion to say that in his judgment it may now be anticipated that the country will manifest a feeling of relief at the happy conclusion of a matter which for some time has been embarrassing commercial interests throughout Canada. He added that a great national undertaking will now be placed on a footing commensurate with its importance in the transportation systems of the continent.

"There is no denying the fact," said Sir Richard, "that for some time there has been a feeling of suspense all over Canada in respect to the fate of the legislation arising out of the position of the Canadian Northern. There had necessarily been a slackening off of the development work which the company had in hand. This in turn created much unrest and uncertainty, as the C. N. R., with its numerous branches, covered such mileage as to make it a vital factor in all that had to do with the development of Canada. The situation was one which reflected on business conditions all over the country.

"As to the bargain entered into between the Borden Government and the railway company, I consider it one of the best we have ever made in the history of Canada. I have today greater faith in the future of Canada than I ever had, and, with this conviction, it logically follows that I must have faith in the future of the Canadian Northern. There cannot be the slightest doubt about the railway paying and paying handsomely.

"Mr. Borden and his colleagues have nothing to apologize for in respect to the terms of the Canadian Northern Aid Bill. A crisis in the history of the development of Canada, due mainly to the financial stringency which swept over the entire world, made it necessary that drastic measures should be resorted to in order that the transportation requirements of the country should be met. The course which has been adopted was justifiable by every process of reasoning.

"I have no hesitation in recording this as my deliberate view of the whole matter, now that the bill is about to be placed in the hands of the Senate for final decision. Parliament had an important duty to perform, and that it has met the situation by this legislation is a matter for congratulation by the whole country."

MET EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Delegation From Vancouver and Adjoining Municipalities Interviews Government

At yesterday's meeting of the Executive Council of the Provincial Government much time was devoted to hearing the views of a deputation from the Mainland on the matter of the Greater Vancouver project, which has been engaging the attention of the people of Vancouver and neighboring municipalities for some time. There were present to confer with Sir Richard McBride and his colleagues, Mayor Baxter, of Vancouver; Reeve Kerr, of South Vancouver, and Ald. Cunliffe.

The proposal, broadly, is that steps should be taken to amalgamate all the municipalities, comprising what would be known as Greater Vancouver, into one municipality. As the scheme is one which abristies with difficulties, requiring much labor in the way of adjustment, the whole situation was gone over at considerable length.

Sir Richard explained to the deputation that for months back the Government had been considering the advisability of appointing a competent expert to look over the whole ground and submit a report, which would allow of the project being approached with full knowledge of the requirements of the case.

As a result of the conference it was decided that the various municipalities, through their representatives, are to file a memorandum with the Government, which will then give the matter immediate consideration and make reply by letter.

MARTIN HARVEY PLEASED

Famous Actor, Who Visited Victoria, Expresses Appreciation at Canadian Reception

Upon the conclusion of their Canadian tour at Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harvey wish to convey their affectionate farewell to their many friends in Canada, and to express their deep appreciation for the unbounded hospitality and support which they have received. It is a source of great gratification to them that their Canadian tour—the first visit of an English company to travel through the country on a tour confined solely to Canadian territory—should have proved an unbroken success. They are confident that other English companies will be encouraged to visit Canada and that they will share in the welcome which Canadians are ready to give them, and they sincerely trust that the British-Canadian Theatre Organization Company—to whose enterprise is due the successful outcome of their visit—will also be encouraged to give appreciative Canadians the best that the British theatre can give and thus continue this new bond of Imperial union which prompted their organization.

VICTORIA PRESBYTERIAL

Missionary Societies of Presbyterian Church Combine to Initiate New District Organization

A well attended meeting of the Women's Missionary Societies of the Presbytery of Victoria was held yesterday afternoon in the schoolroom of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, for the purpose of organizing a Presbyterial in this Presbytery. Several delegates were present from different parts of the Island and Miss McGregor, the organizer, addressed the meeting. After the election of officers, tea was served by the St. Andrew's Society, and a social hour was spent. In the evening a public meeting was held in the church, the chair being taken by the Rev. W. Clay. An inspiring address, given by Miss McGregor, was listened to with great attention. Several musical items, the city gave short addresses, and a solo was sung by Mrs. Edwards.

The time that will be required for ships to go through the Panama Canal will be from ten to twelve hours.

A WORTHY PIONEER

Dr. Helmcken is receiving today congratulations upon his ninetieth birthday. The Colonist joins in them, and so will everyone else. It is a fine thing to have lived ninety useful years, and to be able to receive and enjoy felicitations upon such an anniversary. The history of British Columbia as an organized community and the story of Dr. Helmcken's life are the same. He can say of it, in the words of Caesar: "All of it I saw and part of it I was."

But we have something else to congratulate our friend upon. It is the fact that he is seeing the realization of his aspirations as to the future of Vancouver Island, which has been his home since his young manhood. On August 23, 1886, Dr. Helmcken began a series of letters to The Colonist on "The Northern Railway," which was a proposed line to the north end of Vancouver Island. These letters attracted a good deal of attention at the time, and four years later the Provincial Government was so much impressed with the value of the information contained therein, that it directed their publication among the Sessional Papers, and they will be found at the beginning of those papers for 1890. We quote from the first letter: "To wait until the Island is settled before building a railway, is to wait a long time, and is not consistent with modern ideas of railroads. Railroads now take the place of wagon roads; they are cheaper in the end, and the advantages of them over wagon roads are greater than can be estimated; they make the 'future' close and distance near; in fact business is now done by means of railroads, steamers and telegraphs, etc., in a short time that formerly took months or years to accomplish. Traders must keep abreast of the times or fall into the background." Dr. Helmcken describes the completion of the railway to Nanaimo as "the end of the beginning." He has had to wait a long time, twenty-eight years, to see the beginning of the end approaching. These quotations from his letter show that those of us who, in the later days, are striving to bring about the accomplishment of railway development on Vancouver Island are only following in the footsteps of this worthy pioneer.

THE AID BILL

As Sir Richard McBride points out, the fate of the Canadian Northern Aid Bill is now in the hands of the Senate; but whatever that body may do with it, there is no gainsaying the position taken by our Provincial Premier in regard to the duty of Canada to see that this great project, undertaken in good faith and with confidence in the resources of the country, must not be permitted to fail through any lack of necessary assistance.

We have no private information as to what course the Senate is likely to take, but we very greatly doubt if it will set itself up against the wish of the majority of the House of Commons. In the matter of a naval contribution, there existed at least a colorable excuse that any contribution by Canada to the British Government was something so far out of the usual course of things that it ought not to be made without an appeal to the people. We do not say this is a sound reason, for Parliament has absolute control over the revenue of the country, and can do what it likes with it; but the guaranteeing of railway bonds involves no new principle, and we fail to see how any Member of the Senate could justify himself in taking the position that such a measure should be submitted for popular approval before becoming law. We are the more inclined to think the Senate will pass the Bill, because of the fact that the opposition of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the measure was rather critical than hostile. His lieutenants said some very wild things, but he was careful not to.

AN OPEN QUESTION

We observe that The Toronto News is very strong in its approval of the action of the Manitoba Government in appointing a "Public Utilities Commissioner," whose duty apparently is to investigate and authorize all proposed company flotations before they can be placed upon the market in that Province. We are by no means fully convinced that this is a judicious system, because we are not impressed with the idea that any public official is likely to be in a position to judge of the worth of all business propositions. If any group of individuals, who propose to inaugurate an undertaking and sell stock in it, have first to convince an official, whose position necessarily divorces him from business and who may have ideas of his own that may not be of practical value, we fear a very serious obstacle will be thrown in the way of enterprise. When it comes down to deciding what a man shall be permitted to invest his money in, it seems to us that the best judge is the man himself. We can see that good might be accomplished by requiring a company to submit its prospectus to a Government official, who would have to be satisfied that all the facts were as stated and that there were no misrepresentations, before the company would be permitted to advertise its stock for sale; but we fear if it ever becomes necessary to satisfy officialdom of the merits of business propositions before they can be launched in a public way, legitimate business will be seriously interfered with.

The News says that "fools must be protected against themselves." This may be an excellent sentiment, but why confine it to "fools" who invest in joint stock companies? If officialdom could have strangled the Bell telephone, it would have done it, for every person, who was supposed to know anything at all, treated the first talking machine as a piece of absolute folly. Officialdom could not be convinced that Langley's flying machine could fly. If Professor Langley had submitted a prospectus for a company to perfect his machine to a Government inspector, there is not the shadow of a doubt that he would not have been allowed to offer stock for sale. It is hard enough to convince business men of the advantages of new projects, without having first to convince a Government official, who would be very likely to become hidebound in his opinions.

If the public are protected from misstatements, it seems to us that this is all a government ought to attempt.

JUSTICE TO THE C. N. R.

The Toronto Globe has been very active in its opposition to the Bill in aid of the Canadian Northern, and has on occasions, we think, not kept as strictly to facts as it usually does. At any rate its inferences from alleged facts have not been justifiable, and it has certainly not been careful to give its readers the benefit of all the information available as to that great undertaking. But our contemporary has done the right thing in publishing the following letter, from Mr. Edward Macklin, of Toronto:

"To the Editor of The Globe—As a daily reader of The Globe I wish to enter my protest against two or three statements of yours in connection with the C. N. R. grant, as proposed by the Borden Government. You castigate Borden for loaning $45,000,000 to Mackenzie & Mann, yet you have not one word of censure for Laurier, who handed these same men over $50,000,000 during his term of office. If, as you said today, Laurier loaned on the understanding that the C. N. R. was to be an interior line, without coast terminals, then the more fool Laurier. None of the three great Canadian systems could ever hope to pay dividends if cut off from either ocean. The extensions through British Columbia for the C. N. R. were absolutely necessary; no practical railroad man could say anything else. Then, again, your daily accusations against Mackenzie & Mann, the two greatest Canadian brains of our day, mention the C. N. R.'s inability to compete with the National Transcontinental when complete. Let me inform you—and I know whereof I speak—that the C. N. R. has lower gradients than any other Canadian railroad, and the standard of construction averages as well as the Transcontinental. But—let me underline that "but"—the average cost of the Government-built line is approximately $80,000 a mile, against the C. N. R.'s $40,000 a mile; and yet, you argue, the Transcontinental will 'set the pace' for the C. P. R. and the C. N. R. in order to meet its enormous fixed charges. Pray, what is to be gained by holding up Mackenzie & Mann as lying knaves? Your readers have some sense of proportion and justice."

INCREASE OF WEALTH

Sir George Paish, speaking of the increase of wealth in the United Kingdom, says, in The Statist, that it will double itself in thirty years. This is not mere guess work, but is borne out by statistics showing increases of wealth and population the world over. The normal rate of increase in both these lines, when not affected by exceptional conditions, is 3 per cent per annum, which, compounded, means what is practically a doubling every thirty years. The percentage must be compounded, because each year the increase is added to what may be called the capital sum. Canada did not attain the normal increase in the three decades ending 1911, but she exceeded it in the two ending that year. This ratio of increase is worth keeping in mind.

SWIMMING

The local branch of the Royal Life Saving Society is about to endeavor to interest the School Board in making arrangements for instruction in swimming at some suitable place in the Arm during the Summer vacation. We hope it will be possible to give effect to this proposal. That every person ought to learn to swim is beyond all doubt, and, unfortunately, it is also beyond a doubt that a very great many people cannot swim a stroke. The advantages of a knowledge of swimming are many, and not the least valuable of them is the feeling of confidence it inspires in time of danger. A person who cannot swim even a little is hardly to be blamed for becoming panic-stricken at the thought of being precipitated into the water, and his panic may cause the loss of other lives besides his own. The wreck of the Empress of Ireland shows the great value of being able to keep afloat in the water even for a little while. It also shows that the panic which comes from a dread of the water may cost many lives.

We are not making any plea for expert swimming, which is perhaps not possible for many people to attain, but only for a sufficient knowledge of it to inspire confidence that it is not necessary to drown because one happens to be cast into water. As a matter of fact mankind is not by any means helpless naturally in the water. The helplessness so common is one of the results of civilization. It is an acquired weakness, which it is the duty of everyone to combat. We hope arrangements will be made for free instruction in swimming during the present Summer, and that they will be continued from year to year.

"HUMAN RIGHTS"

The Labor Educational Association, at its annual convention at St. Thomas, Ont., passed the following resolution: "This association is unalterably opposed to the jingo methods being used to induce the youth of Canada to join the militia, and to the use of the same in defence of property rights as against human rights." On the face of this resolution, it looks as if the association did not quite know what it meant to convey as its attitude. What are human rights? Presumably they are those guaranteed by the State, such as the defence of life and property. The State, too, recognizes a right known as "the right to work," and takes care to insure that those who wish to exercise that right are not susceptible to vicious interference. There is no such distinction as the defence of property rights to the detriment of human rights, in Canada at all events. Because two, or twenty, or a hundred or a million men band together and say such and such a thing is right it is not necessarily so if, in the efforts used to accomplish the end, the laws of society are violated. The term human rights is exceedingly vague and capable of many definitions. Property rights are more clearly defined. Labor organizations may have reasonable grounds for objecting to the militia movement, but it would be well to define whatever they are in more concise and logical language than appears in the resolution quoted. Their objection to militia being called out in the case of strikes which are accompanied by violations of the law of the land, if followed to its logical conclusion, would also apply to police. We hesitate to think that organized labor believes that no police force should exist. Those who see that the law is enforced, whether as police or soldiers, form the bulwark between order and anarchy.

CONSERVATION

Speaking before the Town Planning Congress at Toronto Mr. Clifford Sifton declared that the exponents of the various theories of government were wrong in believing that such reforms as government ownership, Socialism or single tax could make everything right. "The law that has heretofore obtained with inexorable regularity," he said, "is that the growth of poverty, misery and crimes accompanies industrial and commercial expansions and the march of what we call modern progress." Then Mr. Sifton went on to say that better transportation was needed to solve the problem of congestion in large cities. We are afraid that the chairman of the Commission of Conservation has by no means gone to the root of the evil to which he suggests a remedy. In and around the world's largest cities, where congestion is most rife and where misery, poverty and crime abound, there are to be found excellent transportation facilities. It is in large cities that traveling is cheapest. Improved transportation facilities, cheaper rates—in fact, whatever might be done in this regard—would not help the problem of congestion more than it has been helped this way in the past unless there were other auxiliary means employed. Slums will grow up irrespective of whether or not their denizens could live just outside the cities as cheaply as they could within. In all countries the history of the past half century has taught the lesson that the development of slums can only find its ultimate panacea in the "back to the land" movement. In many cities legislation has effected betterments in the poorer quarters, but it has not succeeded in wiping them out. Town planning is a most desirable policy, but by itself it can have no effect on poverty and the general character of the habitations where the poor must dwell. We would have looked for some more exhaustive remedy from Mr. Clifford Sifton than that which he has proposed. His inquiries into the science of conservation should have given him an insight into the cause of present day material evils which are not patent to the lay mind.

The Commission of Conservation is accomplishing a good work, but it might well bend more of its energies towards a "back to the land" campaign in those parts of the Dominion where local production is insufficient to supply the needs of communities. If we understand conservation aright such a programme carried out along systematic lines would come well within its province. It should be continually suggesting legislation which will not alone insure a continuity in the life of the country's resources, but also that will mean that those resources are utilized in such a fashion that the people will become fully self supporting. The prices we are compelled to pay for the necessaries of life can only be described as "prodigal," and whatever is characterized in this term is not synonymous with the ends which conservation seeks to accomplish.

The Presbyterian Assembly is to meet in Victoria next year. The delegates will be heartily welcome.

The Evening Journal, of Ottawa, is incorrect in saying that Vancouver was the first city in Canada to exempt buildings from taxation. Nanaimo led the way.

The Oak Bay Council will only entertain an application direct from the City Council for a permit to hold a race meeting within the bounds of that municipality. If Oak Bay can adhere to this attitude, it will place the Victoria Corporation in a very delicate position, that is, if the Council sufficiently sympathizes with the desires of the B. C. Agricultural Association to hold a race meeting at the Exhibition grounds.

Snow in June in New Brunswick is very unusual, but not wholly unprecedented. During the latter part of the first quarter of the last century there was a year during which snow fell in every month. The year was remembered for a long time as "the year without a Summer." Crops matured about as usual. The authority for this statement was a lady who was born in 1796 and who kept a record of the weather of every day of her life from her girlhood until shortly before her death, which occurred about 1880.

Sir Edward Morris has been telling a story of an invitation to a garden party, which was sent to him and a friend by a lady of title in 1887. She said she hoped they would have no objection to appearing in their native costumes. That was pretty bad, but not half so bad as the circular issued by the secretary of the British Medical Association for the guidance of its members who were going to the Medical Congress in Toronto a few years ago. The secretary told them not to bring dress suits or top hats, "for these things are not worn in Canada," but he added: "Be sure to bring a bottle of Day & Martin's blacking, for Canadian mud is very sticky, and it will be difficult to keep your boots clean." A Scotch baronet, at one time well known in this Province, told The Colonist that a lady asked him at an evening party how people traveled in British Columbia, and when he told her by railways, steamboats, motor cars and so on, he was reproved by an older friend for seeking to impose upon her ignorance. "It is very well to be interesting," said his friend, "but quite wrong to mislead a lady old enough to be your mother by such traveler's tales."

Dr. Conan Doyle says that "when the English mob is thoroughly aroused, it is no respecter of sex." The Hamilton Times thinks this remark "both vicious and vulgar." But, suppose it is true, what then? If, one of these days, an incensed mob should mete out to the militant suffragettes what they seem bent upon inflicting upon other people, it will be too late then to talk about vice and vulgarity. There is not a little danger that this may be the case. Already the police have had to interfere on more than one occasion to protect "the wild women" from popular indignation, and there may any day arise conditions when such protection will be of little value. The case of these women is very sad. That they are suffering from a species of hysteria can hardly be doubted, for their acts are not those of sane people. History recounts many illustrations of such temporary insanity on one subject. The petroleuses of the days of the last Commune in Paris were the victims for the time being of the wildest hysteria, although these very same women, under normal conditions, were sane enough. Our great fear is that these English women will not come to their senses until some of them have met a very sad fate. If the mob should be aroused and the worst should happen, the cause of woman suffrage would not be in the least advanced thereby.

SONS OF ENGLAND CONCERT

Society of Old Countrymen Hold Celebration in Honor of His Majesty's Birthday

The Alexandra Lodge of the Sons of England Benefit Society gave a smoking concert last night at the Friends' Hall, Courtenay Street, after the close of the regular business of the lodge, in honor of the birthday of King George V. This was one of the best concerts ever held by the S. of E., exceptional talent having been secured.

The concert opened with a toast to His Majesty, proposed by worthy President Bro. D. Brown, which was responded to by singing "God Save the King."

There were many appropriate patriotic songs, of which "The Englishman," by Mr. Swarbuick, "Long Live the King," by Mr. Collins, and "The Death of Nelson," by Bro. Savage, deserve special mention. The recitation of Bro. Bailey, "The Revenge," was excellently rendered, and highly deserved the applause it received. Past President Bro. Geo. Jay was called upon for a few words, and in reply he commented upon the day that all true Englishmen should celebrate, the birthday of our Sovereign. In a very interesting narrative, he showed the wonderful influence the good old Union Jack has upon foreign nations.

Mr. Griffiths sang several songs, varying from sentimental to ragtime. He is an entertainer of exceptional ability. The funny man of the evening was Mr. Mundy, who entertained with a couple of comic songs, one of which was extremely clever, bringing in the names of several members of the order. Past President Bro. Appleby gave a very good recitation, entitled, "The Boy From Waterford," which received much applause. Mr. Mechan's song, "John Bull and Jonathan," was very well received. Last, but not least, a word of praise must be given to the "Pride of the Island" Orchestra, Bros. Brightwell (violin), Bellard (cello) and Donne (piano). The evening closed with a vote of thanks being passed to the chairman, and to the talent for the delightful concert they had given us.

"Purest in the World"

That's what we claim for "Shell" Gasoline, but, of course, you want some proof of so big a claim. "Shell" is made from Borneo Crude, admittedly much purer than American crude oils. It is purified and filtered until every trace of foreign matter has disappeared, and actual tests every day on the motor roads of the world have proved its purity. Gasoline purity means more mileage, a cleaner engine, less for upkeep and greater power. TRY "SHELL."

TO STRICTLY ENFORCE IMMIGRATION LAWS

Superintendent Assures Mayor Government Is Alive to Importance of Close Regulation of Oriental Arrivals.

In response to the recent telegram sent by Mayor Stewart to the Immigration Department at Ottawa, urging the full enforcement of the regulations with respect to immigrants, an answer was received yesterday by His Worship from Mr. W. W. Scott, Superintendent of Immigration, as follows:

"I presume that you have special reference in this message to the application of the regulations as they affect the landing in Canada of the shipload of East Indians now at Vancouver. The regulations are being very rigidly enforced, and, among others, there is a regulation in force at the present moment prohibiting the entry of skilled or unskilled labor at British Columbia ports on or before September 30 next. Our officers have received instructions to very rigidly adhere to all the regulations, and you may rest assured that every effort is being made by the department to prevent any illegal or improper entry."

In reply, the Mayor wrote yesterday as follows:

"I am glad to note from your remarks that it is the intention of the Dominion Government that the laws regarding immigration will be strictly enforced. With reference to the shipload of Hindus now at Vancouver, aboard the steamship Komagata Maru, the citizens of Victoria feel very keenly that these people should not be permitted to land if there is any way of preventing them from so doing. There is a great deal too much competition with white labor in our city at the present time, and it is felt that a further influx of Orientals at this juncture would work irreparable harm, not only in Victoria, but also throughout British Columbia."

BOUNDARY MINES PROSPER

Rossland Properties Show Substantial Margin—McGill Students Break Up Their Party

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 4.—The party of McGill University (Montreal) students in mine engineering, who have been touring the mines of the Crow's Nest Pass and Southern British Columbia, broke up here recently. They spent several days investigating the Rossland mines and the Consolidated Company's smelter at Trail before separating. Five of them remained here, and will be employed in the mines, two go to Trail, the others being divided among Nelson, the Sullivan and Molly Gibson mines, the Boundary district, the Coast and the East. They were entertained at a smoker given in the Rossland Club by the ex-McGill men of the city, the speakers being well-known mining men, M. E. Purcell, superintendent of the Centre Star and War Eagle mines here; Prof. Bell, in charge of the party; Mike Sullivan and S. G. Blaylock, of the Consolidated Company, and L. A. Campbell, M. P. P.

The Le Roi No. 2, Ltd., known as the Josie mine, at Rossland, had a most successful month of operations in April, according to the report just received from England. The mine shipped 1,530 tons of ore and 168 tons of concentrates. Receipts from smelter were $19,375, payment for 1,413 tons of ore, and $815, payment for 111 tons concentrates; sundry receipts were $694, making a total of $20,884. Working expenses were: Ore production, $11,500; milling, $1,100; development, $8,500. North Annie drift was advanced 126 feet on the 600 level, and the Monita drift 104 feet on the 900 level, both showing good mineralization.

The April report of the Van Roi mine at Silverton, reaching here from London, shows satisfactory progress. The mill report gives the amount of ore crushed as 3,128 tons in 456 hours. The average assay was 13.3 ounces silver, 1.9 per cent lead, 4.9 per cent zinc. This yielded 11 tons of high-grade picked ore, 60 tons lead concentrates and 90 tons zinc concentrates, the total approximate value being $13,967. Ore production cost $4,665, milling $3,736, development $3,926, capital and other expenditure being $2,121. Favorable ground was reported in two raises and one drift, while in the East Drive, No. 3 level, a rich stringer produced 1 1-4 tons of high-grade ore and 79 tons of concentrating ore.

First aid to the injured classes have been organized in Rossland for the men employed in the mines. Dudley Michell, representing the Department of Mines, Victoria, is in the city for this purpose, and also to demonstrate the use of the pulmotor in restoring life in case of gas suffocation. Two classes in first aid will be held on Thursdays, for the men in the two shifts, the lectures to be given by Doctors A. B. Chandler and J. W. Coffin, of Rossland. M. E. Purcell has been elected president of the corps and H. H. Johnstone secretary.

RITCHIE-WELSH MATCH IS CALLED OFF AGAIN

NEW YORK, June 4.—Emil Thiery, representing Willie Ritchie, yesterday declared that the proposed international lightweight match between Ritchie and Freddie Welsh had been called off so far as he is concerned.

Thiery and Bob Vernon, representing the Olympic Club of London, met to post forfeits. Vernon named George Considine as stakeholder. Thiery wanted either Robert Edgren or Billy Bibson to hold the forfeits. Vernon would not accede to this. When Thiery insisted that Eugene Corri must referee there was another hitch.

Bombardier Wells, British heavyweight champion, and Colin Bell, the Australian heavyweight champion, have signed articles to meet at the Olympia Club, London, Eng., on June 29, for the championship of the British Empire. Wells is now indulging in strenuous exercise in an attempt to strengthen his mid-region where lies his most vulnerable point.

EXCAVATION WORK WILL SOON COMMENCE

In Ten Days Gang Will Start Trenching for Steel Pressure Line for Sooke Water Works System.

Within ten days or two weeks the city will make a start on the trenching work for the steel pressure pipe line to be laid from the city to Humpback Reservoir for the Sooke Lake water works system. A camp is now being formed, and it is expected that, when work is underway, from 100 to 125 men will be employed. The contractors for the steel pipe fabrication, the Burrard Engineering Company, are rapidly getting ready the plant at Thetis Cove, Esquimalt Harbor. Some additional plant has been brought over from Vancouver, and the delivery of the fabricated sections will shortly commence.

The first camp for the city workmen is being placed on the Burnside Road, a short distance beyond the Burnside Hotel, and at that point trenching work will start both ways towards the city and Humpback.

Next week the Pacific Lock Joint Pipe Company, contractors for the manufacture and laying of the concrete flow line from Humpback Reservoir to Sooke Lake, will commence laying from the reservoir end. Pipe laying from the Sooke Lake end has already commenced, and about 1,000 feet has been completed. With gangs working from both ends of the flow line, rapid work can be done.

Water Commissioner Rust stated yesterday that the progress of the work at present is satisfactory. The trenching for the steel pipe line will be rushed ahead, and, he stated, no difficulty would be experienced in keeping ahead of the contractors.

REMARKS ON NEED OF BOXING UNION

EDMONTON, Alta., June 4.—"Boxing is harmless when limited round contests are handled by a commission as in New York, Wisconsin and Montana," said Jerry McCarthy, boxing and wrestling instructor to the Edmonton police force, today, when asked to give his impressions of the game in the United States, Canada, England, Ireland, France and Australia.

"The movement to form an international boxing union should have the support of lovers of clean sport," he continued. "I predict that in the near future boxing will be taught in the public schools, for the reason that any boy who can box has confidence in himself, and will not resort to throwing stones and using weapons. Parents are beginning to realize this and as a result boys are taking courses in physical as well as mental training.

"There is an old saying that 'time spent in training the boys in clean living, the chief requisite of athletics, pays a bigger dividend than any other investment. Boxing is one of the most healthful exercises known and it is highly recommended by the medical profession and the clergy."

McCarthy has had vast experience in the boxing game, coming to Edmonton from the States, where he promoted and refereed boxing and wrestling matches for years. Here are some of the bouts he staged: Clabby vs. McGoorty, Welsh vs. Hyland, Dillon vs. Petrosky, Buis vs. Allard, Buis vs. Petrosky, Dillon vs. Levinsky, Fox vs. Cummings, and Thompson vs. Steve Ketchell.

Discussing the limited round boxing laws in force in New York, Wisconsin and Montana, McCarthy said that if the rules laid down are carefully carried out the game will be improved; "though," he added, "the referees in the first two named states should be permitted to give decisions." Continuing, he said:

"The rule probably saved Willie Ritchie from losing his title at Milwaukee on May 22. These no-decision bouts should go on the records as this, although the various newspapers give decisions the morning after the bout. The newspaper decisions so very seldom agree with the result that both fighters oftentimes claim the bout when in reality, under the commission ruling, neither man is entitled to put anything but 'no decision' in his record."

Plan Reception—Next week arrangements for the reception to be given to the officers and men of the Japanese training squadron, comprising the cruisers Asama and Azuma, which will will be decided upon by the committee of the City Council composed of Mayor Stewart and Aldermen Cuthbert, Todd and McNeill. Mayor Stewart has received a wire from the Imperial Japanese Consul at Vancouver setting forth the dates and yesterday His Worship was to have met a deputation representing local Japanese residents in connection with the visit of the ships, but owing to other pressing business he was unable to discuss the matter with the deputation. His Worship also had a short meeting with Sir Richard McBride in connection with the matter.

TAMPICO LACKS CURRENCY

Business in Mexican Oil Metropolis Hampered by Want of Banking Facilities—Companies Inactive

TAMPICO, June 4.—Business in Tampico is greatly embarrassed by the lack of Mexican currency of any kind. National and Constitutionalist banks remain closed, but negotiations are in progress for the return of business.

The city is filling up with returning refugees, many of whom, however, are unable to obtain employment owing to the reluctance of the companies to resume activity on account of the uncertainty of the present conditions.

Messrs. E. S. and Robert Morrison Lose Their Lives While Fishing Near Blue River, on North Thompson

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—Two brothers, Messrs. E. S. and Robert Morrison, of Albert Street, Vancouver, were drowned in Mud Lake, according to news which has reached this city from Blue River, a divisional point on the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway.

Mr. E. S. Morrison was resident engineer in charge of the bridge building operations in the district of Blue River, and Mr. Robert Morrison was timekeeper. Details of how the accident occurred have not yet been received here. Mute evidence of their tragic fate was discovered in the finding of their small boat bottom up. They had been fishing.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Subjected to Fine—Because he failed to stop behind a stationary street car, A. Schroeder, a motor car owner, was fined $10 by the police magistrate yesterday. He pleaded guilty.

Protests Innocence—Harold Frost was accused yesterday in the Police Court of having attempted theft by breaking into the room of Mrs. Clark at the Y. W. C. A. He pleads not guilty, and, on application, was allowed a day's remand in order to obtain legal advice.

Motor Car Stolen—On Wednesday evening Dr. Higgins' motor car was stolen from the front of a residence on Stanley Avenue, while the owner was absent. The theft was reported to the police, but up to last evening the car had not been recovered.

Could Not Proceed—Santa Singh, the Hindu accused of assault, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning, but the hearing could not proceed owing to the absence of Delia Bryant, the chief witness. The city prosecutor promised that she would be in attendance today, and the required remand was allowed.

Seamen's Institute Plans—Matters in connection with the building of the new Seamen's Institute are going on apace. The building committee now has plans for the new premises, which will be laid before the general committee at next Tuesday's meeting. It is fully expected that the construction will be begun within the present month.

False Pretences—Once more Bally Van Dusen appeared before the police magistrate yesterday. He is charged with obtaining money by false pretences by securing a signature to a draft on Minneapolis through misrepresentation. As he pleaded not guilty, a commission has been appointed to secure the necessary evidence at the city named. Its report has not been received, and so the defendant's hearing had to be remanded for another week.

Husband Disappeared—The local police authorities have been requested by Mrs. Shelton, 1304½ Crown Hill, Los Angeles, Cal., to seek for her husband, J. A. Shelton, who disappeared from his home on April 30 last and has not since been heard from. It is believed that he came north. He was suffering from a nervous breakdown, and ill-health is given as the cause for his disappearance.

Dry Farm Stations—Hon. W. R. Ross, Minister of Lands, announced yesterday that Mr. W. G. Elliott, principal of the Olds Agricultural College, who has been entrusted with the work of superintendence at the two dry farming stations in British Columbia, has arrived in the Province in pursuance of his duties for this season. He is now at the station at the 150-Mile House. The other station is at Quilchena Commanage, Nicola.

May Fire Loss—The May fire loss totaled $4,040, according to figures issued yesterday by Fire Chief Davis. Loss on buildings was $3,206, and on contents $1,633. Insurance carried on the premises totaled $42,100. Alarms numbered twenty-three, of which sixteen were by telephone, six by box, and one by the May-Oatway system. In fighting the fires 7,490 feet of hose were laid, 377 gallons of chemical used, and the department traveled 161 miles.

Aided Capsized Party—Prompt action by Mr. George Dempsey resulted in the rescue of Miss Bagshawe who, with two male companions, was tipped from her canoe while passing through the Gorge on Wednesday evening. When the canoe overturned, Mr. Dempsey saw the predicament of the three clinging to the foundered craft and, running to the water's edge, he entered a canoe and paddled out. Miss Bagshawe caught hold of the canoe and was towed to shore by Mr. Dempsey, her companions managing to work their own way to safety.

Another Adjournment—It was expected that counsels' argument in the case of Charley Gunion, an Indian, against the Bank of Commerce would have been heard yesterday morning. In this action the plaintiff seeks to recover $3,255, which he claims was paid out of his account to his wife, now dead, on the presentation by the latter of a cheque on which Mrs. Gunion had written his name. Chief Justice Hunter granted an adjournment to next Thursday. Mr. J. A. Aikman is appearing for the plaintiff, and Mr. A. P. Luxton, K. C., for the bank.

Crow's Nest Power Co.—The current issue of The B. C. Gazette contains notice that the Crow's Nest Pass Electric Light and Power Company, Limited, will apply to the comptroller of water rights for the approval of the plans of the works to be constructed for the utilization of the water from Elk River, which the applicant is, by Board Order No. 953, authorized to take, store, and use for the generation of electrical energy. The territory within which the company desire to exercise the powers conferred by the board order is the Fernie and the Cranbrook Water Districts.

Moved on Holiday—Yesterday the local mail and express customs business was handled from new temporary offices, which have been opened in the Belmont Block, the entrance being from Humboldt Street. The necessary equipment and all facilities were transferred on Wednesday, the King's birthday. The change was imperative because of the addition to the post office block now in course of construction. For the benefit of the general public, it is explained that the new order will continue only until the work is completed. Ample notice will be given of the department's removal back to the old quarters.

Help Countrymen—At the instance of Balwant Singh, a Vancouver priest, a meeting of the local Hindus was held the other day at the Sikh Temple, when the situation of the men on the SS. Komagata Maru at Vancouver was discussed. Advantage was taken of the opportunity by Balwant Singh to draw attention to the generosity of Vancouver Hindus in subscribing to assist those who are refused admission to Canada. He asked that their Victoria countrymen should do the same. As a result a substantial sum was raised, which the visiting priest has taken back to the Terminal City to use to the best advantage in the interest of the newcomers.

An Explanation — When William Francis was called before Magistrate Jay yesterday on a charge of drunkenness he declared that the officers had made a mistake. He said that, while on his way home, three men approached and accused him of stealing a $5 bill. He resented the imputation, and, pulling off his coat, proceeded to defend his character. The dishevelled condition in which he was found by the constable was explained by the melee which is supposed to have followed. The officer, however, said that he was minus both his coat and vest. The defendant replied that, in the excitement, he must have thrown off both garments. The magistrate dismissed Francis with a warning.

Mr. Henderson Feted—For some weeks Hon. Dr. Young, Provincial Secretary, has been endeavoring to find Mr. R. Henderson in order that he might be presented with the Edward Medal which had been awarded him by the Imperial Government for heroism in effecting the rescue of fellow-miners employed in a mine in South Africa. Mr. Henderson was believed to be employed in one of the mines at Comox, but a letter from him received yesterday conveys the information that he is living at Sheep Creek, B. C. This will permit of an early date being set for the ceremony of presentation, which will be performed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at the Parliament Buildings.

To Extend Courtesies—At the end of the present month—on dates yet to be set—two Japanese cruisers will pay a visit to Esquimalt harbor, making a stay of about two days. An intimation of this intention has been conveyed officially to Sir Richard McBride. The Premier announced yesterday that the Provincial Government would be pleased to extend every courtesy due under the circumstances and was making preparations to that end. Sir Richard added that Mayor Stewart had conferred with him as to the nature of the reception to be accorded the visitors from the Orient, and that such programme as would be decided upon by the Government, would be framed with an eye to the wishes and arrangements of the city in a similar endeavor.

Town Planning—Mr. E. McGaffey has just received a letter, written to him in his capacity as secretary of the late Vancouver Island Development League, from M. Benoit Levy, general secretary of the Association des Cities—Jardins de France, the president of which is Senateur d'Estournelles de Constant, begging him to convey to the Mayor of Victoria his sincere thanks for the collection of photographs of "your beautiful country" recently sent to him. Mr. Levy adds that the books sent have been placed in the library of the association, where they have been seen with great interest. M. Levy has sent to Mr. Gaffey a copy of his own work "La Ville et son Image," and also an illustrated catalogue of other works from his pen, which he states have been purchased for the public libraries of Calgary and other cities on this continent.

Cornerstone Ceremony—Hon. Dr. Young, Minister of Education, announced yesterday that, inasmuch as it was hoped to be able to award in a few days the contract for the first buildings for the Provincial University on the site at Point Grey, matters would be in such a shape as to enable His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught to officiate at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone during the occasion of His Royal Highnesses' forthcoming visit to this Province. An official invitation is to be sent to the Governor-General, and it is anticipated that there will be no difficulty on the score of his acceptance. The ceremony should prove of great historic interest, altogether aside from the interest which naturally attaches to the public acts of one whose official career has endeared him so greatly to the people of Canada.

Hon. W. R. Ross Back—Hon. W. R. Ross, who has been absent from the city for upwards of a month, making a tour of the Interior and a visit to points in Eastern Canada, returned to the city yesterday. He visited Toronto and was present at the Town Planning Convention, which, he says, was a most profitable experience. Asked yesterday as to how he found conditions in the sections visited, Mr. Ross replied that one cannot make a tour of the West without being impressed with the decided feeling of optimism which prevails on all sides. The people generally are of the opinion that, while a period of stress has made its influence felt far and near, matters are once again rapidly assuming a normal stage, and that recovery will be steady from now on. In particular is this characteristic of the feeling throughout the interior of British Columbia.

Water Act—Notification is given in the current issue of The B. C. Gazette that a meeting of the Board of Investigation under the Water Act of 1914 will be held at Lillooet on July 14 at 10 a.m. in the matter of all streams flowing from the east into the Fraser River between the northern boundary of the Railway Belt and the mouth of Seton Creek, Cayoosh Creek, and Seton Creek, excluding Seton Lake and its tributaries. Another meeting of the same board will be held at the 150-Mile House on July 22 at 10 a.m. in the matter of Williams Creek, a tributary of the Fraser River, Williams Lake, San Jose River, Knife Creek, and all other streams in the drainage area of Williams Creek.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Courts of Revision—Notice is given in the current issue of The B. C. Gazette that a court of revision for the Municipality of Saanich will be held at the Royal Oak School, Royal Oak, on Monday, July 6. A similar court for the Municipality of Maple Ridge will be held at Port Haney on Tuesday, June 30.

Minister Goes North—For the benefit of his health, which for some days past has not been of the best, owing to an attack of hay fever, Hon. W. J. Bowser, will leave tomorrow morning on the C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia, with the intention of making the round trip to Skagway. The trip is undertaken with no idea of business. Mrs. Bowser will accompany the Minister.

To Practice Assaying—The current issue of The B. C. Gazette contains notice that the Mines Department of the Provincial Government has issued certificates of efficiency in the practice of assaying to the following persons, under the Bureau of Mines Act: Under section 2, sub-section 1, Richard Morgan and Thomas Watson. Under section 2, sub-section 2, George E. Bolton; Reginald Charles Dempster, Alfred J. L. Evans, Wilson M. Harding, Roy D. Hearn, L. W. Oughtred, E. H. S. Sampson, Ridgway R. Wilson, and Rainsford Hannay Winslow. Under section 2, subsection 3, John D. Galloway.

"Dollar Day" Movement — Victoria merchants are entering into the spirit of the "Dollar Day" movement with the utmost enthusiasm, and the indications are that Saturday, June 13, which has been chosen as the date of the first local event of the kind, will find thousands of outside shoppers in the city. The transportation committee of the Retail Merchants' Association has succeeded in arranging for special rates not only over the E. & N. Railway line, but as well over the V. & S. and B. C. Electric Railway Companys' roads. The C. P. R. boats calling at adjacent centres also will give special fares. This will make it easy for residents of practically all Vancouver Island and adjacent centres to spend the day in this city, and there is no doubt that, in view of the special values which the responsible merchants have determined to offer, thousands will take advantage of the opportunity. Circulars are being prepared for distribution among the people giving details of the proposal. They will be dispatched at an early date.

Companies Incorporated—Notice is given in the current issue of The B. C. Gazette that certificates of incorporation have been granted to the following companies: The Barclay Shingle Mills, Ltd., head office at Vancouver, with a capital of $25,000; Boursin Syndicate, Fort George, $10,000; Cumshewa Iron Mines, Victoria, $100,000; Germania Importing Company, Victoria, $10,000; Huntington Development & Waterworks Co., Vancouver, $25,000; Ideal Furniture Co., Vancouver, $20,000; Omineca Gold Dredging Co., Vancouver, $100,000; Pitt Meadows Oil Wells, Vancouver, $1,000,000; the Shanghai Club, Vancouver, under the Benevolent Societies Act; South Cowichan Public Hall Company, Cowichan Station, $1,000; Thorpe & Co., Victoria, $75,000; United Workmen's Club, Vancouver, $24,000; Woodwards Meat Department, Vancouver, $15,000. The following are registered as extra-Provincial companies: Tiffany Studios, Myott, Son & Co., Toronto; Robin Jones & Whitman, Ltd. The St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Company is licensed to transact business in British Columbia.

Saanich Schools—A meeting of between thirty and forty people at the Presbyterian Church, on Tillicum Road, passed resolutions urging the Saanich School Board to place a by-law before the municipality providing for additional school accommodation for the district, to be placed about half way between the present schools at Craigflower and on Boleskine Road. It also urged the board to, in any event, provide temporary accommodation from the end of the coming vacation. A census recently taken showed, Mr. Kohout said, that in the district bounded by Burnside, Dysart Avenue, Millgrove Street and Gorge Road there were 174 children, and that the headmasters of Craigflower and Tolmie Schools admitted having to turn away a number of children for want of room. Mr. F. J. Stacpoole, K. C., presided.

SHOW ADVANTAGES OF LOCAL MANUFACTURES

Local Branch of B. C. Manufacturers' Association Organize an Educational Campaign.

"We are organizing a campaign designed to educate the public as to the benefits derived by the community through the patronage of home industry," observed Mr. F. W. Newton, honorary secretary of the Victoria branch of the B. C. Manufacturers' Association, yesterday, in discussing the activities of the organization. He said that the management committee was engaged in drafting a programme which, it is thought, will prove to the people the advantage of supporting their own industries. In the carrying out of the proposals in mind it would be essential to secure the support of all local bodies of a representative and influential character. For this reason a committee would wait on the City Council at an early date, and a definite arrangement had been made to confer with members of the Board of School Trustees next Wednesday evening.

Mr. Newton stated that the business of the manufacturers was of a general character. It was first proposed to emphasize the importance of giving the home producer the opportunity to handle all work in connection with the construction of new schools or the improvement of those already built. In short, it was intended to impress on the trustees the need of giving the home manufacturers, who have their investments here and who maintain the payrolls, all the backing possible. The intention also was to suggest a method by which the children would be taught to recognize and to demand goods with the Victoria labels when they reach years of responsibility. It is the opinion that this, also, will make an impression on the minds of the parents, with good results. "Our motto," Mr. Newton added, "is British Columbia first, Canada second, Great Britain third, and the rest as you please."

It was pointed out by Mr. Newton that, since the establishment of the local branch of the manufacturers, there had been acquired a membership of over thirty responsible manufacturers of the city. These businessmen all were exceedingly active, and there was no doubt that the body would have representatives of every local industry enrolled before long. The first annual convention of the B. C. Manufacturers' Association was to be held in Victoria during the Dominion Exhibition. On that occasion there would be upwards of 200 of the men who have their money invested in British Columbia in attendance.

ROYAL NAVAL RESERVE

Await Admiral Kingsmill's Return for Details of Scheme—Instructors From Royal Navy

The Naval Volunteers, or to give them their official title, the Royal Naval Reserve, are marking time pending the return of Rear-Admiral Kingsmill from his tour of inspection of the Coast. The admiral's papers with the full scheme should be awaiting him here, and at a parade on June 11 he will place the details before the corps. After this steps will at once be taken to swear in the men and get everything in readiness for the arrival of the naval instructors, who will be provided by the English Admiralty, and who will include both officers and warrant officers.

The duties, as at present understood, which the Royal Naval Reserve will be expected to fulfil, are to fit themselves to serve in any capacity on board ship and to carry out all other duties performed by the sailor. The corps will be officered entirely from the Royal Navy at first, but it is expected that opportunities will be afforded candidates to qualify for commissions. This point, however, has not yet been mentioned officially.

5th Regiment Riding School—The equitation class, held by Captain R. P. Clark, assisted by Mr. A. Halstead, for the non-commissioned officers and drivers of the movable armament company of the 5th Regiment continues this evening at the Horse Show Building on the Exhibition grounds at the Willows.

TRAINING CHILDREN

Miss Hansford Outlines Montessori Method of Upbringing Before Women's University Club

The Montessori method of child-training was the subject of an interesting address given before the Women's University Club, at the residence of Mrs. E. C. Hart ,yesterday. The speaker, Miss Hansford, of New Westminster, has come recently from New York, where she has studied this important new system, and is the first disciple of Dr. Maria Montessori to speak in Victoria.

The system, she explained, was to train and develop the visual, tactile and muscular sensations in the child. This being done under the supposition by the child, that it is playing a game. A number of devices are used, "sound boxes," alike in appearance, but filled with different seeds, pebbles, etc., to develop the child's sense of the difference in sounds, pads of various textures to train the child's sense of touch, and frames with buttons and buttonholes, hooks and eyes, etc., in order to teach a child to manipulate these simple fastenings.

The system has been eagerly welcomed by all interested in education and over 100 Montessori schools have already been established in the United States, while England, France and Germany are also adopting the method.

To give the individuality of the child full freedom for exercise and development is the root-idea, and in this respect was a wide departure from old-time methods.

At the conclusion of the address, Mrs. Jenkins remarked that there was a department for the training of teachers in the Montessori system at the San Francisco Normal School. She moved a very hearty vote of thanks to Miss Hansford. This was seconded by Mrs. H. E. Young, and cordially endorsed by Miss Cann, president of the club, who occupied the chair for the meeting.

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR BUILDING PROGRAMME

School Board Will Prepare for the Erection of Hillside and Hollywood Structures—Judges for Singing Contests.

Immediate steps will be taken by the Board of School Trustees to push ahead the construction of the four-roomed primary school on the Hillside Avenue site, and also the six-roomed school on the Hollywood site. At a special session of the the board held yesterday afternoon it was decided to instruct Mr. C. E. Watkins, architect, to prepare sketch plans for the Hillside Avenue structure, and to call for bids for the erection of the Hollywood building. In the latter case the plans have already been approved, and, indeed, bids were called for early this year, but owing to the lack of funds the tenders were not opened, but were returned to the several bidders. Funds are now available, a recent sale of debentures having placed sufficient money at the disposal of the board to permit of the building programme being carried out. Bids for the Hollywood School must be in by Monday, the 15th instant.

Trustees Mesdames Jenkins and Gilbert and Mr. Jay were appointed a committee to select the judges by whom the annual singing contests for the shields presented by the Lieutenant-Governor will be decided. The competition for both senior and junior shields will be held on the 10th, 11th and 12th of the present month. Members of the board commented upon the dissatisfaction which was expressed over the decisions of the judges last year, when Messrs. J. G. Brown, G. J. Burnett and Jesse Longfeild conducted the competitions, and the suggestion that the above committee be appointed to select the judges for this year's competitions was approved. Last year the senior shield was won by the Sir James Douglas school and the junior shield by the Boys' Central.

The British America Paint Company wrote pointing out that the specifications for new school buildings, as prepared by the school architect, calls for paints, varnishes, etc., of other than British Columbia manufacture. The latter urged that, wherever possible, products manufactured in this Province should be used. As a deputation representing the Victoria branch of the Manufacturers' Association will appear before the board at the regular monthly meeting next week, the matter will then be discussed. Members of the board, however, expressed themselves as of the opinion that the specifications would allow any approved materials to be used by contractors.

Trustee Dr. Hall and Medical Inspector Dr. Wasson were appointed to pass upon the applications for the position of school nurse to succeed Miss Swan, who recently resigned that position.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Cathedral to Have Special Offering for Sufferers in Marine Disaster A Victoria Victim

Since the Anglican churches last Sunday were unable, through their celebration of the Whitsun festival, to hold memorial services for the Empress of of Ireland victims, it has been decided to hold a special service in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday next at 4 p.m. A short address will be given by the Dean of Columbia, and a special collection will be taken at the close of the service in aid of the fund for the widows and orphans of those who perished in the disaster.

A substantial sum has already been subscribed in Victoria, to which Sunday's offering will be added.

Particularly poignant interest is given to the memorial service which will be held on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the Oaklands Gospel Hall, a well-known member of the congregation, Mrs. Frances Thompson, having lost her life in the wreck of the great liner. Mrs. Thompson was on her way to England to visit a sick daughter, and left behind her, at the family home on Hillside, her husband and little boy. The sympathy of the community is with them, in their terrible loss.

Buenos Ayres has a population of 1,400,000, made up largely of Spaniards and Italians, but including also many Germans, British and Americans. Rosario has 300,000 inhabitants, Bahai Blanca 75,000 inhabitants, and Mendoza 75,000 inhabitants.

SOUTH AFRICA'S VIEW OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

"The Most Imperial Province"—Mr. O. F. Brothers Talks Interestingly of Trade Conditions.

Despite the widespread talk of hard times (and slackness of trade which has been heard) all over Canada for some time past, visitors to this country are invariably impressed with the air of prosperity and solidarity which pervades almost every Western town of any size. To this rule Mr. O. F. Brothers, a journalist of wide and varied experience, who has just reached the Coast from England, is no exception.

"When you say that there has been a slump, and that trade conditions are bad," said Mr. Brothers, "you must surely be comparing present conditions only with those that prevailed during the boom years. To the outside observer, Western Canada, and particularly the Coast cities of British Columbia, show no signs of trade depression. All new countries pass through periods of boom, which are followed by so-called slumps. Canada has had a slump only by comparison with the boom. Conditions here are solid enough at bottom, and what you may consider hard times appear prosperous enough to the stranger."

Mr. Brothers, though still a young man but little past thirty, has had a most interesting career, and was until recently on the staff of The London Daily Telegraph.

During the South African war, he held a commission in the S. A. Light Horse. After the declaration of peace, he held, for several years, important positions on the staff of some of the leading papers in the Transvaal, including The Transvaal Leader, of which he was political news editor; and The Progressive Monthly, the official paper of the Unionist Party of South Africa, of which he was the editor.

An Imperial Province

The South African's view of Canada, and of British Columbia in particular, is of especial interest. Mr. Brothers says that this Province is regarded as the most Imperial of all Provinces in the British Empire. "To a great extent we, in South Africa, attribute this strong Imperial sentiment to your Premier, Sir Richard McBride, who is regarded throughout South Africa as one of the most able and progressive of Imperialists."

Mr. Brothers had an interview with Sir Richard yesterday, and was struck by a certain resemblance in manner and characteristics which he bears to Gen. Louis Botha, the Premier of South Africa. "It w s obvious to me," said Mr. Brothers, "that your Premier was a man with a large understanding of human nature when I noted how, in a moment, he put at ease each one of those waiting to see him, and at once showed that his sympathetic tact and charm of manner was the foundation of his great personal popularity. In this respect Sir Richard McBride greatly resembles Gen. Louis Botha."

Mr. Brothers will take up his permanent abode in Vancouver, where he will occupy the position of editor of a new paper to be called "The Old Countryman." The paper will be published weekly, and the first issue is to appear on June 26. Its object will be to provide a reliable source from which readers in the Old Country and South Africa, New Zealand, and Australia may obtain a thorough grasp of Canadian affairs. The Pacific Coast has been chosen as the most advantageous and central place to publish a paper, which will aim to provide readers in all parts of the Empire with reliable information. Particular attention will be paid to Old Country news by special correspondents in each country in the United Kingdom. A London letter and English sporting articles will be features of the publication.

FAREWELL TO PASTOR

Belmont Methodist Church Choir Make Presentation to Retiring Minister — A Pleasant Event

On Tuesday evening last, a very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hardwick, when the members of the Berean Bible Class and choir of Belmont Methodist Church met to bid farewell to Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Balderston, who are leaving for White Rock, B. C. The evening was spent with music and games. Mr. T. Varker, on behalf of the choir, presented to Mr. Balderston a fountain pen, and Mr. D. Stewart, on behalf of the Berean Bible Class, presented to Mrs. Balderston several pieces of silverware, as a token of their esteem. Refreshments were served, and the gathering dispersed with the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Seven thousand six hundred and eighty-one persons were imprisoned for debt in England and Wales in the year of 1911.

That the people of Victoria recognize sterling piano value when they see it is evidenced in the fact that the carload of Mendelssohn Pianos that arrived last week was gone almost as soon as it was placed on the floor.

And no wonder! Here is an instrument that, in point of tone, finish, durability and all round excellence, is not equaled by any $350 instrument on the market today. This is an opportunity that seldom comes to piano buyers. Don't let it get by.

In Women's Realm

BY MARIA LAWSON

COUNTESS DYONIS SECHENYI

A Viennese Beauty

The Countess Dyonis Sechenyi is one of the leading hostesses in Austrian society, and the best lawn tennis player in Vienna. Her portrait in a late number of The Gentlewoman is a reminder that Canadians know less than they should about the great cities of continental Europe.

Newspaper readers have learned lately that the women of Vienna are taking a great interest in the affairs of their country and city. That many of the beautiful and highborn ladies of one of the most interesting of European capitals are both accomplished and cultured is learned by visitors to Vienna.

The city, with its population of nearly 2,000,000 is very beautiful and contains some of the grandest old churches and palaces in the world. It is a great musical centre, and many ambitious girls do not feel that their musical education is complete till they have received instruction from some of its great teachers. Its medical school is one of the finest in the world, and art students, in thousands, visit its art galleries.

Nor has Vienna any of the defects of a medieval city. It is kept beautifully clean and has every modern improvement, while there are 274 parks for the benefit of the people.

The history of the city is interesting, and we may, in our own time, see great changes in the country of which it is the capital. The death of the old Emperor, Franz Joseph, is looked forward to with some apprehension, for Austria-Hungary is a country of many races.

Recently there are rumors of dissension between Austria-Hungary and her ally, Italy. The Balkan wars and treaties have given cause for jealousies and dissensions. There are many Italians who are Austrian subjects in Trieste, and the Austrian territory on the western side of the Adriatic. These are not allowed as much liberty or treated with as much consideration as they think is their due, and observers fear there will be a quarrel before long between Italy and Austria. Most of us have seen heavier war clouds disappear than those which now hang over these nations, and we may hope that they, too, will pass away and Vienna continue to be a centre of art and learning as well as of beauty.

The Ladies' Musical Club

Though but a very short time has elapsed since the annual meeting of the Ladies' Musical Club, plans are being made for the coming season's work.

For many years past this society has devoted itself to the encouragement of the study and the practice of music among the amateurs of Victoria. For the past two years the members of the executive have undertaken, in addition, to give their fellow citizens the opportunity of hearing some of the most renowned musicians and singers in the world. In doing this they undertook grave financial responsibilities, and that they have been successful speaks worlds for their business ability.

It is, little wonder, perhaps, that Mrs. Hermann Robertson asked her fellow members to allow her to retire from the presidency, which made great demands on her time. Victorians owe to Mrs. Robertson a debt of gratitude. Not only has she generously placed her own talent at the disposal of the club and of her fellow citizens, but she has encouraged strangers and amateurs in many ways. It is pleasing to learn that, as a member of the executive, Mrs. Robertson will still give the club the benefit of her experience and her attainments.

In the new president, Mrs. Nash, the amateurs will feel that they have a warm friend. Few people know how very hard this lady has worked to prepare the excellent programmes for the Saturday afternoon concerts, which have given Victorians an opportunity of learning how much musical talent there is in our own city. In her position as president, Mrs. Nash will have many demands upon her time, but none that will call for more judgment than was needed to prepare for the Saturday afternoon concerts.

All Victorians appreciate the kindness of Mrs. Macdonald Fahey and Mrs. Harry Briggs in becoming leading members of this club. They both have many calls upon their time, and their popularity makes their willingness to help the club the more commendable.

Miss Smith's value as professional secretary is now too well known to need more than a word of commendation, and Miss Cecilia Helmcken has proved an excellent secretary. Mrs. Duncan Ross, the treasurer, is a new but a valued member of the executive. The officers are supported by a good board of directors.

Every girl and woman in Victoria who studies music, and all who love it, may become a member of the Ladies' Musical Club. Membership entitles each to admission to the Saturday afternoon concerts, of which there are usually two each month. The fee is two dollars. Active members, those whose musical talent and attainments will help to instruct and entertain others, and students only pay a dollar.

No one now knows how much musical there is among the women of our city. But that what there is will be developed by meeting together for consultation and by listening to the best local talent as well as to artists from abroad. In order that all members may have a chance to take part in the concerts, it is hoped this year to do some choral work.

Victoria owes a debt to such societies as the Arion Club and the Ladies' Musical Club, which for the love of music encourages its cultivation. The very least the rest of us can do is to support and encourage these enthusiastic and public-spirited citizens by every means in our power. During the coming season the membership of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club should be at least doubled.

Tonight's Festival

The ladies and gentlemen who have taken so much pains to prepare a beautiful and unique entertainment for the benefit of the Arts and Crafts Society should have the hearty support of all citizens. Very few of us know as much as we should about pictures or music as an art. The performers tonight, as well as a number of art lovers who are not performers, have been at infinite pains to prepare an object lesson for us. Eye and ear will be alike delighted by the sweet music and the living pictures. For once, the management will allow the sale of flowers, and their beauty and their perfume will add to the pleasure of the occasion.

It is yet the day of small things in art in Victoria, but the Arts and Crafts Club have made an excellent beginning in establishing the School of Arts and Crafts. It is the object of this entertainment to provide funds for its support and improvement.

A Great Meeting

The General Federation of Women's Clubs of the United States will hold its twenty-fifth meeting in Chicago in June. This convention will represent a million women. This, it is calculated, is a twentieth of the women of the nation.

In six years the membership of the federation has doubled. The federations are non-political bodies. They are doing in every city much good in social and educational and artistic fields. Like our own local councils, they represent women of all sects and of many interests. But all are united in a desire to help each other and to make the world better.

Great preparations are being made in Chicago for the reception of the convention and, no doubt, many Canadian women will make the journey across the line to be present at the deliberations of the National Federation. Many of the subjects they will discuss for the welfare of children or the good of their own sex are not national but world wide.

House Building

There is not a city, at least in Western Canada, where the problem of high rents does not confront the poor man. The best way, it may be said, is for everyone to own his or her own home. This is not always possible. Great numbers of people must live in rented houses, and it is essential that these houses shall be not only cheap but sanitary. The following article from an Eastern exchange describes an act now in force in Ontario, which was meant to meet this difficulty. It will be interesting to those who are considering a housing plan for our own city.

"The Ontario Act of 1913 is not probably as well known to the public as it ought to be. This act allows any municipal council to guarantee bonds of any private company which desires to build houses of moderate rental value. The chief conditions are two. First, the company is not to be allowed a dividend of over 6 per cent. In other words, the company is not to be for the purpose of making profit, but for the purpose of effecting a public good. Secondly, the bonds guaranteed must not be over 85 per cent of the capital (not 75 per cent, as stated in the report of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association).

"Under this law, a company—The Toronto Housing Company—was formed in Toronto last year with a capital of $1,000,000. Of this, $150,000 is furnished by private parties, while the Toronto City Council guarantees bonds to the extent of $850,000. Five acres of land fronting on a suburban avenue have been bought, on which $400,000 will be spent to house 200 families. The rentals will vary from $10 to $16 a month, according to accommodation. Applications have been received for double the number of houses planned. Other land has been bought elsewhere in the city, and will be built on as rapidly as possible. The $1,000,000 is expected to furnish 500 houses of a far superior type to what is possible at present at anything like the rentals named.

"This Ontario Act, it will be observed, applies only to private companies. A municipality has no power itself to go into house building. The City Council of Chatham wants to do this, and is applying for a special act. But much reason exists to doubt whether under the municipal conditions prevailing in Canada, power can be wisely granted to municipalities to go into such business. They would be pretty sure to make a mess of it. Better to try first the experiment of private companies. Perhaps these might be allowed a little more profit, as an inducement."

Heavenward

Would you be young again?
So would not I—
One tear to memory given,
Onward I'd hie.
Life's dark flood forded o'er,
All but at rest on shore—
Say, would you plunge once more,
With home so nigh?
If you might, would you now
Retrace your way?
Wander through thorny wilds,
Faint and astray?
Night's gloomy watches fled,
Morning all beaming red,
Hope's smiles around us shed,
Heavenward—away!
Where are they gone, of yore
My best delight?
Dear and more dear, though now
Hidden from sight.
Where they rejoice to be,
There is the land for me;
Fly, time—fly speedily;
Come life and light!
—Carolina Nairne.

RIGHTS OF BELLIGERENTS

Safety of Private Property at Sea in War Times Is Urged

One of the most important subjects discussed at the recent meetings of the Baltic and White Sea conference was the question of the capture of private property at sea in war time.

W. J. Noble, the president of the conference, submitted a resolution which stated, in effect, that the conference viewed with grave apprehension the disastrous consequences to merchant shipping and sea-borne commerce that must follow upon the exercise in any future war of the existing right of a belligerent to capture and confiscate the innocent private property of the enemy's subjects at sea, and called on the Governments of the maritime nations to take into early consideration the question of abolishing such right.

It was, Mr. Noble said, perhaps not fully recognized that at present international law allowed a belligerent to capture and confiscate all the merchant ships of the enemy and any of the enemy's goods they might contain. So long as this right was retained it provided, he insisted, a justifiable incentive to all nations, with property in peril at sea, to provide large armaments for its protection, and was, therefore, the main cause of the gigantic expenditure on armaments by the various powers of the world.

Hence, one of their reasons for advocating the abolition of this so-called right was that they believed such a step would tend to set free large sums for the development of trade and commerce and the reduction of taxation, in which shipowners, along with others, would benefit. It was estimated that the powers of Europe sacrificed, directly or indirectly, about $5,000,000,000 a year on their armies and navies, and undoubtedly this gigantic expenditure was undermining the strength and prosperity of European nations.

Proceeding, Mr. Noble said that the menace to private property had been further aggravated by the right to convert merchant vessels into warships on the high seas, and the failure to come to any arrangement as to the conditions under which such conversion may take place. It was argued that the right of capture was calculated to make war so intolerable and far reaching in its effects as to constitute the most powerful deterrent that could be found.

To admit the argument, Mr. Noble insisted, was to condemn the progress of civilization. The logical outcome would be to re-establish piracy, to abolish the Geneva convention, ignore the white flag and bombard undefended towns. The right of prize, he added, was injurious to the whole economy of the world, and the law as it was at present was at variance with the essence of the comity of nations.

Men That Count

It was, when all is said, a hatefully immoral thing that only a few men of a community should be allowed to be men. But, at least they were men. They were very imperfect men, if only because aristocracy is itself imperfect. The first Pitt was a lunatic, the second a drunkard; Nelson was a poseur; Wellington was something very like a prig. But, when all is said, nobody can maintain that Chatham's valet or Pitt's coachman could have made better speeches than they. Nobody can maintain that Trafalgar would have been better trusted to the powder-monkey; or Quatre Bras to the last recruit. The people in superior positions were supposed to have learnt something. They were masters of men; but they were also masters of arts.—G. K. Chesterton in The London Herald.

The Belgian Chamber of Deputies has passed a bill granting a pension of 360 francs a year for miners 55 years of age, who have worked forty years in a mine.

By examining fairly accurate records, scientists have found that there has been no appreciable change in the climate of northern and northwestern Europe in 1,800 years.

TEAM OF GOLFERS TO PLAY IN VANCOUVER

Victoria Players Will Meet Shaughnessy Heights Club Men in First Half of Match Tomorrow.

Announcement was made yesterday of the selection of Victoria golf players to go to the Vancouver Shaughnessy Heights Club Links tomorrow for the first half of a home and home match. The second half will be played on the Oak Bay links next Fall. The match, which will be the inaugural one of an annual series, will be for a handsome cup put up jointly by the two clubs. Thirty-six holes will be played in each half.

The Victoria team is as follows: Messrs. Macan, Matterson, D. Martin, Ricardo, Hincks, Wheatley, Horrocks, Goward, Rithet, Criddle, Cancellor, Bowker, Horton, Mitchell-Innes, Coles, Johnston, W. Boultbee, Ballantyne, Babcock, Rant, Judge Irving, Kent, C. Martin, S. Martin, Longhurst, A. Boultbee, A. Lindsay and C. E. Thomas.

Golfers in England have become excited over the question as to which stroke is the most valuable. The question was put to fifty-six of the best golfers in England. Forty-five answers came in. Of these twenty-three favored the putt while twenty-two were for the approach. James Braid, regarded as one of the best putters in the world, headed the faction that favored the putt, and J. H. Taylor, one of the best players the game has ever known and a man almost without a peer as a driver, headed the faction that declared the approach shot was the most valuable.

The approach advocates asserted that this shot was the most important because of the psychological effect it had on the player. A good drive from the tee gave the player confidence; a poor one made him nervous and spoiled his natural effectiveness for the next shots and also the putt.

In rebuttal, the putting clan declared that an indifferent drive on the first shot from the tee rarely meant an extra stroke because on his second or third drive the golfer had a good chance to make up for the poor start, whereas if a golfer missed a short putt, it certainly meant an extra stroke.

CLAYTON CUP BOWLS TO START THIS WEEK

Leading Event of Bowling Season Will Open at Beacon Hill Greens—Mr. Peter Turner Wants Trophy.

The leading event of the bowling season, the Clayton Cup singles, will be commenced this week at the Beacon Hill greens. Yesterday the draw was announced. Several games will probably be played on Saturday.

Unusual interest attaches to the game in which Mr. R. Dunn will meet Mr. Peter Turner. Mr. Turner was last season's winner of the cup and he is going to make a strong bid for permanent possession, for which he must win the cup three times successively. Mr. Dunn is also a former cup winner, as he lifted the mug in the year of its donation.

The draw for the first round follows: G. Snelling vs. E. R. Lumsden; M. S. Meredith vs. J. Donahue; R. H. Gray vs. W. Chambers; G. Roberts vs. C. Marshall; W. Wood vs. W. Melville; W. H. Cullin vs. J. Yates; A. E. Banister vs. E. P. Kay; W. F. Davidson vs. W. Bryce; A. R. Langley vs. J. Anderson; G. Greenhill vs. R. Roe; J. A. Turner vs. R. Green; W. Walker vs. A. B. Fraser; D. McLean vs. B. H. John; H. Webster vs. W. H. Murphy; G. M. Stevenson vs. F. Robertson; W. G. Lumley vs. F. J. Hall; R. McDonald vs. G. Mowatt; A. H. King vs. C. Nettle; E. H. Hiscocks vs. R. Dowswell; R. Dunn vs. P. Turner.

AQUITANIA SHOWS GREAT SEA SPEED

Giant Cunarder Averages Speed of 23.51 Knots on Maiden Voyage—Best Day's Run 602 Knots

SS. AQUITANIA, June 4.—Via wireless to New York: The Aquitania is developing speed that was scarcely expected. Yesterday's run was 602 knots. The average so far is better than what the Lusitania accomplished on her maiden trip. If the present weather continues, it is expected that the Aquitania will land her passengers on Friday morning. The average speed has been 23.51 knots an hour.

WORCESTERSHIRE GIVEN MOST DECISIVE DEFEAT

Captain of Warwickshire's Side Registers Highest Score in County Cricket This Season

LONDON, June 4.—Worcestershire was the victim of the most decisive defeat of the cricket season when they were beaten by an innings and 321 runs by Warwickshire, in a county match at Dudley, started on Whit-Monday. The match, which took just over two days to finish, was featured by some splendid batting by the Warwickshires' retired captain, F. R. Foster, who registered the highest score this season with a total of 305, not out. Parsons also hit up a century for the winners with 102. In the second innings F. E. Field bowled brilliantly, six of the Worcesters' wickets falling for two runs, this being the second best performance by any first-class bowler.

At Leicester the Leicestershire eleven beat Northampton by 214 runs. Coe, for the winners, batted well, compiling a total of 252 off Northampton's offerings, while Mounteney scored 55 and Whitehead 52. S. G. Smith was Northampton's best batsman with 54, and G. J. Thompson made 52.

Somerset deeated Gloucestershire by seven wickets at Taunton. B. L. Bisgood compiled a century for Somerset, his total being 116. Stanley Rippen, with 60, and J. C. W. McBryan, with 61, were also high scores. For Gloucester, Dipper equalled his last year's high score with 168, not out, that being the exact number with which he headed Gloucester's high scores last season. S. O. H. Sewell batted well with 113.

CHARLIE WHITE LIKELY TO MEET JOE AZEVEDO

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 4.—Charlie White and Joe Azevedo will be the next big boxing card in this city if the plans of Promoter Jim Coffroth are realised. The local promoter has decided that a bout between the best of the bay counties products and the man who is given credit for besting Willie Ritchie will make a good card.

Joe Azevedo is a clever boy, and he has met some of the best men in his class. He won a decision over Ad Wolgast in a ten-round bout, and did it in such a decisive manner that he was considered in line for the lightweight championship. Since then Azevedo has tackled several men of lesser prominence than Wolgast, and, although he has held his own, he is not considered as strong a man as he was after the Wolgast fight.

A match between Azevedo and White over the twenty-round route will give the local fans an idea of how good this Chicago lad is. There have been reports from the East which have softened the first accounts of Ritchie's defeat and have given the champion credit for putting up a great battle in the last four rounds.

OPENING OF ANNUAL OLYMPIA HORSE SHOW

Record Entry List—King George and Queen Mary Will Attend Next Monday

LONDON, June 4.—A record list of entries, among them many from America, was announced at the opening today at Olympia of the eighth annual horse show, which lasts until June 16 and promises to be one of the most successful of the series. American exhibitors include William H. Moore and Alfred Vanderbilt, of New York, and Baron Alexander Stackelburg, of Santa Barbara, Cal.

The big event is the competition for the King Edward VII. $2,500 Gold Vase, for which teams from the cavalry of most European armies have entered. The vase, which has to be won three times to become the absolute property of any country, has been carried off twice each by Russia, the present holder, and France, and once by Belgium.

Olympia has been transformed into a huge castle yard. The Royal box, which will be occupied by King George and Queen Mary on June 8, is in the form of an old English timbered pavilion with leaded windows and reception rooms furnished in keeping with the box.

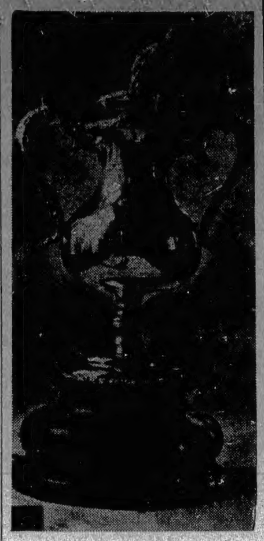

The arena is encircled by a wall of grey stone, having a wide summit on which stand trailing and foliage plants, beneath which are hidden thousands of electric lights.

VANITIE LOSES RACE TO RESCUE SEAMEN

Second Contest for America Cup Defence Candidates Goes to the Yacht Resolute

RYE, N. Y., June 4.—The third race of the initial series for the America's Cup defence candidate yachts was won off here today by the Resolute after the Vanitie withdrew while in the lead to assist in the rescue of two of her seamen, who had been washed overboard. It was a disappointing ending of what had promised to be the best contest to date between the two boats.

By winning today's race the Resolute went into the lead in the struggle with the Vanitie, having won two out of the three races sailed. The yachts will renew the contest Saturday.

CLAYTON CUP

Bowling for the Clayton Cup will commence this week at the Beacon Hill greens. The draw was announced yesterday.

COAST IN GRIP OF HEAVY GALE

Wind Attains Velocity of 70 miles an Hour Off Point Reyes, Causing Ships to Seek Shelter

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 4.—A heavy gale blowing off Points Lobos and Reyes late today held up all northbound vessels. At 5 p. m. the wind was reported to be blowing eighty-four miles an hour from the Southwest, kicking up a heavy sea. All ships scheduled to leave for the North remained tied up at their wharves.

The wind arose early today, increasing rapidly in violence. At 3 p. m. off Point Reyes, it had attained a velocity of seventy miles an hour.

Last night the steamer Falcon, northward bound, towing the bark Antione, encountered a seventy-four-mile gale, which gave it considerable difficulty. The Falcon, with her charge, finally put in at Drake's Bay after a four-hour fight with the head winds and lashing seas.

A Westminster exchange states that Joe Gorman, of Victoria, is seeking a place on the Westminster lacrosse team. The same exchange has an article dealing largely with Slaton, Gravlin and Ed. Steele, three semi-professional ball players of Victoria. The report says that Slaton, pitching for the Electrics, held Columbus to one run and one hit.

ALTERATION IN LAWS GOVERNING CRICKET

Change Regarding Follow-On Will Prevent Clubs From Being Deprived of Victory Fairly Earned.

LONDON, Eng., May 4.—An alteration in the laws of cricket with regard to the follow-on, which was made at the recent annual meeting of the M. C. C. will doubtless prevent many clubs from being deprived of victory fairly earned and will, therefore, add to the popular interest in county cricket. The new rule simply provides that where, for any reason, no play takes place on the first day of a three-day match, a difference of 100 runs instead of 150 shall suffice to decide the follow-on. If no play takes place on the first two days a superiority of 75 runs in the first innings shall be sufficient to give a team the right to make its opponents follow-on with their second innings. Such rules as these are all for the good of the great Summer game, depriving teams, as they do, of the assistance of the clock, and compelling them to rely more radically on their cricketing abilities.

In the magazine which bears his name, C. B. Fry has expressed the opinion that no county cricket club should be dependent upon "gate-money" to make ends meet financially. Mr. Fry does not despise the spectator; but he feels that the spectator, during the last season or two, has not been kept in his proper place. After all, the game of cricket is primarily for those who play in it, like any other game. If Brown, Jones and Robinson wish to watch the play they should be allowed, to do so; but they should not be allowed to lay down rules for the players to observe.

Of late years the insecure financial position of many leading clubs has led them to attempt to cater for the crowd, hence, all the schemes for "brightening" cricket, including Mr. Warner's bands, two-day matches and the various schemes for squeezing out the "stone-waller" and encouraging the hitter. It has even been proposed that a batsman should be considered out if he has failed to make any run off six consecutive balls sent down to him, although one is inclined to think that this particular scheme must have been the work of some humorist turning his attention to cricket.

To a certain extent the spectator should certainly be catered for, if only as a means of promoting good feeling, and the plan of starting matches on a Saturday is one legitimate way of doing this. The line certainly ought to be drawn, however, when the crowd attempts to constitute itself the governing authority in cricket, and the barracking of slow players by spectators ought to be firmly suppressed. Instead, it frequently secures the approval of those who write the cricketing articles in the daily press. The play of the man who, for the good of his side, devotes himself to keeping his end up and refuses to allow the bowler to lure him into hitting out, ought to be as interesting in one way to the spectator with the true cricketing instinct, as the play of a Jessop is in another way. Of course, if the "gate" is not to be relied on most counties would require greater assistance in the way of members' subscriptions, and this might induce clubs to cast their net wider for players, to make greater efforts in the direction of playing amateurs, and in other ways to rouse a keener personal interest in their fortunes throughout the respective counties.

PORTUGAL PROSPERS UNDER REPUBLIC

Observer of Conditions Says That State of Country Has Been Incorrectly Reported—People Are Satisfied.

Ever since the revolution in Portugal, a certain section of the European press has made a point of insisting on the hopeless condition of the country, on the anarchy prevailing there, and on the absolute disregard for freedom.

Again and again the ridiculous inaccuracy of these statements has been shown.

The impressions of Major Cumberlege, an officer who has recently retired from the English service, and who during the past three and a half months has been resident in Lisbon, are here given. Major Cumberlege was careful to impress on his interviewer that he spoke simply as an ordinary resident who had used his own intelligence and his own eyes during his stay in the capital.

He had never, he explained, attempted to procure official information on the subject, or information from the Monarchist party. Such an attempt would have ended in his being given ex parte statements, both of which might have been animated by perfect good faith and yet have been entirely unreliable.

During his residence, he was also in receipt of English and other papers, and he read in them with amazement statements which purported to be authentic, and to come from reliable correspondents of what was happening in the capital, which to his own knowledge, were the most unadulterated falsehoods. The columns of these papers were full of reports of bombs being exploded and of the prevalence of general chaos.

Actually, at the very moment that this was supposed to be taking place, you could walk about Lisbon and Portugal as you could walk about London and England, and the business of the country was going on quietly in the ordinary way.

Exaggerated Statement

"I read one day in a certain English paper," he said, "a statement that bombs were being exploded every day, and that the marvel was that more people were not injured than was the case. Now, during the whole time I was in Lisbon, there was just one bomb exploded, and from all I can gather, the explosion of that particular bomb was much more a piece of horse-play than anything else.

"Personally, I do not think there was any political significance whatever in the incident. Nor did I ever hear of all these people who were supposed to be injured. The truth is that the only foundation for the stories is the fact that the Portuguese are very fond of crackers, and that on Sundays and feast days they have a habit of letting off very alarming-sounding crackers and rockets.

"While I was there," he continued, "the two railway strikes which recently received so much attention in the English and foreign press, took place. According to the foreign press, the country was held up, and a revolution was brewing behind the silence.

"The fact is that the Lisbon railway system is abominable. There is only one line into the capital, and as it happened to be the men on this particular line who were on strike, the capital was, during the very few days the strike lasted, cut off, as far as railway communication went.

"There was nothing like the commotion there was during the last big railway strike in England, when the parks were filled with troops under canvas. After one or two days, however, a certain number of trains were running, and shortly afterwards the whole matter was over. From the very first, the Government had the disturbance completely under control. The moment the strike broke out, every station on the line was garrisoned with soldiers and every train that ran had soldiers on board.

"On only one occasion was there anything like a big demonstration of the strikers, and that took place in the Rocio, which might be described as the Trafalgar Square of Lisbon. Within a few minutes, a squadron of cavalry entered the square, and the whole business was at an end. The attitude of the Government is perfectly simple. There may be a strike, but there must be no rioting. Anybody who does not choose to work is at liberty not to work, but there must be freedom for anybody who wishes to work.

No Desire to Return

"This is the method of the Republican Government and, so far as I could see," Major Cumberlege continued, "there is not the slightest sign of any wish to return to a Monarchy. My experience, of course, was limited, but, personally, I saw no evidence of any such wish. I could never see that the Royalist element was very much in evidence.

"Generally speaking, people seemed perfectly satisfied with the present regime. The Government crises which have arisen have been purely those created by the ordinary party politician. I mean that it has never been the Republican against the Royalist, but simply a striving in the Republican ranks for the fruits of office. A great deal has been made of the treatment of the political prisoners, and of their having been kept a preposterous time without trial. This may be true or it may not, but as a charge it is rather an amusing one coming from the Royalists, who themselves kept the Prime Minister, Senhor Da Costa, for eighteen months in the hulks, without a pretence of trial.

"It may be that Senhor Da Costa, remembering this, was in no particular hurry to make things pleasant for them. Beyond any question, however, the political prisoners are properly treated. I met one well-known English lady, who had been round the prisons, and had even been out of Madeira to see the prisons there, and she was loud in her praise of everything she had seen.

"The nobility, who, of course, are Royalists, and are supposed to have suffered heavily in this way, are not a very influential class, and have left the country in great numbers. The impression I gained was simply that the old monarchy had disappeared in a process of dry rot, and that the people were perfectly satisfied with the Republic, and ready to give it a fair trial, as a process of natural, progressive evolution.

"One of the legacies which the Monarchy left the Republic was a population 70 per cent of whom are illiterate. The Republican leaders have realized that before anything really can be done towards putting the institutions of the country on a better footing, the education of these people must be undertaken, as at present they can neither read nor write.

The Government has, therefore, arranged for the establishment of 1,000 schools, of which 600 have been opened. The remainder are awaiting teachers, who have actually to be trained before the schools can be opened. Another legacy is the fact that the executive receives nothing at all from the customs.

"The customs are not even in the hands of the Government, but are farmed by a private company. It will be about three years before this contract comes to an end and the Republic is in a position to take over its own custom houses. The result is that the duties are extortionate, and this, of course, affects trade.

"The Monarchic Government was run by a body of state secretaries who were nothing but couriers. What was called a constitutional Monarchy was an autocracy, in which everything went by favor. The average politician may be as bad under one form of government as under another, but there is no doubt that the present Republican form of government keeps a very much better check on him than the Monarchical form ever did.

"Economically," Major Cumberlege went on, "the country has undoubtedly great possibilities, but it needs capital badly. Capital, up to the time of the revolution, was excluded by bad laws: it is excluded now because of the agitation in the foreign press, which keeps people alarmed by representing a condition of affairs which simply does not exist."

IXION MAKES FINE TRANSPACIFIC RUN

Blue Funnel Liner Crossed From Yokohama in 12 Days 13 Hours and Averaged 14 Knots.

Failing to beat the transpacific record of the liner Protesilaus by a few hours, the Blue Funnel steamship Ixion steamed into port at 1 p. m. on Saturday after a remarkably fine run from Yokohama. The exact steaming time of the Ixion from Yokohama to William Head is quoted by Captain Riepenhausen as 12 days 13 hours, which falls short of the Protesilaus' time by 5 hours. For vessels of this type, designed purely for the transportation of cargo, the big Blue Funnel liners take second place only to the C. P. R. Empresses in the matter of speed. No other transportation company operating vessels in the North Pacific trade is able to maintain the schedule on which the Blue Funnel liners are operated. The Protesilaus is unanimously admitted to be the fastest of the fleet, and the other skippers are dubious as to the possibility of snatching her laurels.

"We had a splendid passage," remarked Captain Riepenhausen, when interrogated as to the brand of weather the Ixion experienced on the inward voyage.

Lost Man Overboard

"The weather on this trip was in marked contrast to our last outward voyage," he added. On that memorable occasion the Ixion encountered a series of terrific gales, and eighteen days were occupied in making the transpacific passage, which is usually made in thirteen. Strong southeast gales were sweeping the Coast when the Ixion steamed from this port for the Orient last November. The big vessel was in the grip of raging seas immediately she passed out at Tatoosh. "We thought we were having the worst of it then," said Captain Riepenhausen, "but, as it turned out, the worst was yet to come." When nine days' steaming from Victoria the Ixion was assailed by a howling southerly hurricane. Captain Riepenhausen says that the wind reached such an awful velocity that the seas were hammered flat. With the moderation of the gale the weather became squally, and it was then that mountainous seas struck the ship. One mighty sea crashed aboard and swept overboard Quartermaster Jacobsen, a Finn, who was never seen again. The same sea carried away one of the lifeboats, and several others were stove in. The Ixion presented a sorry plight when she eventually steamed into Yokohama, and all on board were agreed that it was the worst trip ever experienced on the Pacific.

New Chief Officer

News was brought by Captain Riepenhausen that Chief Officer Dawson, of the Ixion, has been promoted to the command of one of the Holt ships plying to the Far East. He is succeeded by T. B. Pugh, who was formerly with the Blue Funnel liner Ajax. The Ixion has another new officer in the person of A. Jordan, second engineer. The other officers of the Ixion are: F. Lord, second mate; D. C. Roberts, third mate; W. G. Harrison, fourth mate; W. E. Wakeham, purser, and T. A. Wright, chief engineer.

The Ixion brought a fair cargo of European and Oriental merchandise, which included a big raw silk shipment and a heavy new-crop tea consignment from China.

While the vessel was berthed at the Outer Docks, 132 steerage passengers disembarked, and 47 were booked through to Tacoma.

The Ixion sailed at 3 p. m. yesterday for Tacoma and Seattle. She will return here either Sunday or Monday to unload several hundred tons of general freight.

Little Girl's Fatal Fall

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, June 4.—While watching some children at play from a balcony, Edna May, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilliland, fell to the pavement below and died later in the hospital from the effects.

DREDGE AJAX SHIFTS

Will Deepen Approach to William Head Wharf to Thirty-Five Feet

The Dominion dredge Ajax has been dispatched from the Inner Harbor to William Head to dredge out the approach to the Quarantine Station Wharf to a depth of thirty-five feet.

When she has completed the work at William Head the Ajax will shift to Royal Bay to deepen the water approach to the proposed wharf to be erected by Grant, Smith & McDonnell on the quarry site recently acquired by that concern. The above firm intend to ship rubble from Royal Bay to the site of the new piers at Ogden Point.

LAST OF STATIONS NOW IN OPERATION

Whaler Germania Left Port Yesterday to Join William Grant at Rose Harbor—Big Season Predicted.

All the whaling stations on the West Coast are now in commission and the prospects of a heavy season, now that the weather has moderated, are exceptionally bright. According to an announcement made yesterday at the offices of the Canadian North Pacific Fisheries, Limited, the Rose Harbor Station, on the West Coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands, has been put in operation during the past week, and the whaler William Grant is now hunting the deep-sea mammals to supply the northern station.

At daylight yesterday the whaler Germania, one of the last of the fleet to go North, was dispatched from the Outer Docks, with Rose Harbor as her destination. Following her arrival at Rose Harbor the Germania will operate in conjunction with the William Grant.

It is the intention of the whaling company to send out the last of the fleet, the St. Lawrence, at the end of the present week. The St. Lawrence will be under orders for Sechart.

Up to the present time Sechart has reported the largest catches, while reports from the other stations are optimistic.

The whalers Sebastian, Green and Black are operating out of Kyuquot; the Orion and Brown at Sechart, to be augmented by the St. Lawrance; the White and Blue at Naden Harbor; and the William Grant and Germania at Rose Harbor.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. George Green, for many years a resident of Victoria, arrived from New York yesterday afternoon to visit friends. Mrs. Moorehead, nee Miss Ethel Green, one of the most popular of America's comediennes, who was accorded a most flattering reception on her appearance recently in one of London's best theatres, is Mrs. Green's daughter. Having spent the earlier years of her life here, as well as starting out on her successful theatrical career from this city, Mrs. Moorehead has many close friends and acquaintances among Victorians. They have followed her artistic triumphs with pleasure, and have learned of her recent marriage, followed by her retirement from the stage and the establishment of a home in New York, with interest. Mrs. Green is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gray, Fort Street.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Knight was the scene, on Wednesday evening, of a very pretty wedding, their son, Mr. Thomas Knight, being united in marriage to Miss Jennie F. Macdonald, of Stellarton, Nova Scotia. The room where the ceremony was performed was sweet with pink and white roses. The bride looked charming in a dainty frock of ivory duchesse silk. Her bridal veil of tulle was arranged with a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Florence Knight, who acted as bridesmaid, wore a simple frock of pale blue silk, and carried a bouquet of roses, while little Miss Nellie Knight acted as flower girl, carrying a basket of white carnations. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Arthur Knight, and the Rev. William Stevenson performed the ceremony. A reception and buffet supper followed the marriage service, and later Mr. and Mrs. Knight left by motor for their honeymoon, amid the good wishes and congratulations of their numerous friends. On their return they will make their home in Victoria.

So thin is a new oiled silk material for men's raincoats that a garment may be folded into a wallet and carried in a pocket.

RECORD MONTH ON BREAKWATER

Total of 54,114 Tons of Rock Dumped on Site During the Month of May—Piers Well Under Way.

Another record month is reported in connection with the dumping of rubble at the Ogden Point breakwater site. It is announced by Mr. J. S. MacLachlan, Government supervising engineer on the breakwater and pier contracts, that, during the month of May, 54,114 tons of rock was dumped, showing a material advance on the previous heavy month of April. This splendid showing is accounted for by the operation of the big hopper barge Hercules, which is making two round trips daily between Albert Head and the breakwater site. The Hercules has a capacity of 500 tons. A small fleet of scows is also being operated in addition to the Hercules from the Albert Head quarries. The total amount of rubble dumped since the breakwater contract was started is placed at 126,504 tons.

Also, during the month of May, 1,190 tons of granite blocks were laid on the rubble bed under the supervision of divers. Altogether 1,000 cubic yards of material was excavated and leveled off on the foreshore area during May. This amount is considerably smaller than in previous months.

Plant Assembled at Piers

The chief work on the piers by Messrs. Grant Smith & McDonnell during May was the assembling of material and getting the plant ready for the big contract. During the past month 7,036 tons of rip-rap were dumped on the site of the two piers. This material will form the foundation of the concrete cribwork that is to be constructed on the big floating drydock now moored inside the Inner Harbor.

The steel that is to be used in the reinforced work on the contract is being shipped here from Nova Scotia. The first shipment of steel, which is being supplied by Prior & Co. has been passed by Government inspectors, and is now being shipped overland to Victoria.

It is anticipated that a shipload of steel will shortly be sent out to this Coast from Nova Scotia.

The contract for the cement to be used on the pier contract has been placed with the Associated Cement Company of Bamberton. Numerous tests have been carried out to guage the strength of this material, and the cement has been declared O. K. by Government inspectors. The Grant Smith & McDonnell quarries at Esquimalt, whence much of the rubble for the contract will be secured, are being opened up and it is expected that material will be shipped from that point this month.

Funeral of Jacob Furth

SEATTLE, June 4.—All the street cars of the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power Co. stopped for two minutes, beginning at 3 o'clock, simultaneously with the beginning of the Masonic funeral ceremonies of the late Jacob Furth, president of the company. The honorary pall bearers at the funeral were former business associates designated by Mr. Furth himself when he knew his end was near. The body was cremated.

To Put on Flesh and Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but it is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by D. E. Campbell, Druggist, and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

MOUNTED POLICE TO GIVE MUSICAL RIDE

Representatives of Crack Canadian Corps Will Attend Dominion Exhibition Here Next September.

Some novel features will mark the Dominion Exhibition, which will be held in Victoria from September 21 to 26, one of which is to be a musical ride by a special corps of the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police. Mr. George Sanger, the secretary of the B. C. Agricultural Association, was advised yesterday that the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, Premier of the Dominion, had consented to the appearance here of the requisite number of the scarlet-coated guardians of law and order in the Prairie Provinces. This settles the matter as the definite arrangement of the affair depended only on the obtaining of the sanction of the authorities.

Officials of the local management committee are of the opinion that the Mounted Police performance will be one of the outstanding attractions of the exhibition. The same spectacular ride has been given before both at Edmonton and Calgary and was exceedingly popular. The presence of representatives of the crack Canadian corps, however, not only means that a musical ride will be presented which is altogether unique, but that interest will be stimulated in other competitions which are proposed. It is the intention, for instance, to give substantial prizes for a tent-pegging contest. The mounted police will enter into these sports with enthusiasm, and those attending the exhibition thus are assured of witnessing some exceptional demonstrations of horsemanship.

Highlanders' Band

Another Dominion Exhibition entertainment already arranged is a series of concerts by the band of the 91st Highlanders, of Hamilton, Ont. This organization is in charge of Bandmaster H. R. Stares. He has enteerd into a contract to bring his full strength to this city and, as the Highlanders have established the reputation in the East of having the finest band in Canada, there is no doubt that the musical end of the show will be of unusual merit. Bandmaster Stares has toured through the United States and has visited other sections of the British Empire, and wherever he has taken the organization its reception has been of the warmest description. It is felt that the officers of the local association have been fortunate in inducing the Highlanders to come West this year. With the Fifth Regiment and other local bands, together with those of adjacent cities, it is guaranteed at this early date that there will be high-class music at the Fair from the opening to the closing day.

The announcement also is made that the preparations for the National Show at the grounds is making splendid progress. The large building, which has been under construction for several weeks, is nearing completion. Several large additions to other structures are well in hand, while the entire area has been laid out anew in an attractive as well as a convenient manner.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

Court of Appeal

The Dominion Trust Company, Limited vs. Masterton: Appeal by plaintiff company from the judgment of Morrison, J., at Vancouver on the 26th of September, 1913, dismissing the action, which was a claim to recover possession of a house and lot. The defendant purchased the land in question from a firm of builders and contractors and the latter proceeded to build upon it under the terms of the agreement. He made certain payments, but the firm getting into difficulties, he, for his own protection, paid the succeeding instalments into court. In the course of negotiations of these difficulties one of the firm placed his titles in the hands of the plaintiff company, who brought action to eject the defendant. This action was dismissed, because the company could not produce the certificate of title. This was subsequently obtained and they brought a new (the present) action. The trial judge was of opinion that the plaintiff company was precluded by the result of the first action and dismissed the claim.

The appeal was argued at Victoria on the 4th of June, 1914, before Macdonald, C. J. A., Irving, Martin, Galliher and McPhillips, J. J. A., when argument was concluded and judgment reserved.

Brydon-Jack for appellant; S. S. Taylor, K. C., for respondent.

Simpson vs. Union Steamship Company of British Columbia, Ltd.: Appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of Macdonald, J., and the verdict of a special jury at Vancouver, on the 12th of January, 1914, in an action claiming damages for the death of plaintiff's wife whilst a passenger on the steamship Cheslakee. Mrs. Simpson was drowned when the steamer, having returned to shelter from a storm, sank at the wharf. Negligence was alleged. The jury returned a verdict of $1 and costs were awarded on the County Court scale.

The appeal was dismissed, Galliher, J. A., dissenting, and in favor of granting a new trial. Ritchie, K. C. and Craig for appellant; Armour for respondent.

In re Thomas Freeman: Appeal by Freeman from an order made by Gregory, J., on the 31st of March, directing a writ of certiorari to issue removing into court the proceedings relating to an application by Freeman for a battle license. Argument on the case is proceeding. W. J. Whiteside, K. C., for appellant; Craig for respondent.

CRICKET AT DUNCAN

In the match played between the Nanaimo and Cowichan Cricket Clubs, last Saturday, Cowichan won by 9 runs. Scores: Nanaimo, 156 (Jepson 53, Paul 43); Cowichan, 165 (Murphy 48, Bagnall 37, Hayward 27).

On Wednesday last the Cowichan Club defeated Westholme by an innings and 111 runs. For Cowichan the stand of the innings was made by Bagnall (83) and Maguire (60), while Major Barnes narrowly missed carrying his bat right through the Westholme innings for a useful 37. W. H. Hayward accomplished the hat trick during the Westholme innings.

DETAINED BY NEW WESTMINSTER FIRE

Mr. D. R. Ker, of Brackman-Ker Milling Co., Expected Back on Saturday—Warehouse Destroyed.

Mr. D. R. Ker, managing director of the Brackman-Ker Milling Company, who has been making an extended sojourn in the Old Country, is expected back next Saturday. He has been enjoying a leisurely trip across the continent, making business calls of varied lengths at Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton where the company has large interests. Had it not been for the New Westminster fire of Saturday which destroyed a large warehouse owned by the Brackman-Ker Company, Mr. Ker would have reached home several days earlier. News of the conflagration reached him shortly before he got into Vancouver and he proceeded directly to the Royal City to investigate.

The conflagration is described by a New Westminster correspondent, in part, as follows:

"Another big fire occurred on Saturday morning when the big warehouse of the Brackman-Ker Milling Company in this city was completely destroyed and nearby buildings were endangered. The fire started in exactly the same spot as the disastrous fire nearly fifteen years ago which completely destroyed the city of New Westminster. The fire early caught in the large quantities of hay and straw stored in the warehouse and spread very rapidly. By the time the brigades arrived the flames were shooting hundreds of feet in the air. Oil and other inflammable material in one end of the warehouse made the fire hotter.

Extreme Heat

"A large quantity of hay, grain and seeds of various kinds were destroyed. Two horses which could not be gotten out were burned to death. One was a Shetland pony and the other a stallion valued at $1,000. The large B. & K. auto truck was also badly burned. The total damage is hard to estimate as yet, but it will run between $20,000 and $25,000, completely covered by insurance.

"After an hour's hard work with seven streams of water playing on the building the fire was brought under control.

C.N.P.R. GRADE ON SAANICH PENINSULA

Contractors Engaged on the Patricia Bay Branch Have Made Good Progress—"Big Cut" at V. & S. Crossing.

While the progress of the grading operations on the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway through Saanich Peninsula has not been as satisfactory as originally expected, because of a series of unfortunate interruptions, the contractors are getting ahead well under the circumstances. There still is a considerable amount of work to be done but the stage has been reached from which the end is in sight. On what is known as the first "residency," namely, the two and one-quarter miles immediately outside Victoria, 21 per cent has been accomplished. On the second "residency," 70 per cent is finished, and on the third "residency," 55 per cent is complete. The contractors, Messrs. Bruce, Nottleton Essbach Company & Angus Madonald, have a large force of men employed and they are getting on with the unfinished portions rapidly.

It was explained yesterday by local authorities that the work on the first "residency" is not as backward as it looks when the conditions are understood. The grade, generally speaking, is practically in shape, but the greater percentage of the labor is involved in what is known as the "big cut" at the crossing of the V. & S. Railway at Carey Road. This is one of the most formidable tasks in connection with the construction of the Patricia Bay branch of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railroad. It has been impossible to make a start because of the difficulty the railway company has had in reaching an agreement with the Saanich Council and with the property owners affected as to the character of the crossing proposed. In fact there has been no definite understanding up to date, but the matter was referred to Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Railways, and he is expected to give his decision in a few days. On the receipt of this information, arbitration will be resorted to in order to fix the compensation to which property holders are entitled for land which probably will be expropriated. Then the work will be undertaken and pushed forward with all possible dispatch.

Yesterday one of the seven or eight arbitration cases which are being pressed by the railway company in order to obtain a complete right-of-way through to Patricia Bay was taken up, the property owner in question being Mr. R. N. Ferguson. The land is situated in the vicinity of Portage Inlet. Judge Barker, of Nanaimo, presided, while Mr. R. S. Day represented the Company and Mr. Hugh Kennedy the owner. The usual evidence as to realty values in that district was submitted and it is expected that the award will be made known at an early date. The other arbitration proceedings pending will be brought before the board immediately, as it is the desire to clean the slate before the end of the month.

Mr. D. O. Lewis, the district engineer of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway, and Mr. F. C. Gamble, chief engineer of the railways of British Columbia, recently returned from a tour of inspection of the grade of the former road. They covered the section lying between China Creek and running along the Alberni Canal for about ten miles, where it swings towards Cowichan Lake. The journey was made on horse and by foot. It is reported that the line in this section is most satisfactory.

LIPTON'S CHALLENGER OUT FOR FIRST SPIN

PORTSMOUTH, England, June 4.—Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's Cup, went out today for her first sail-stretching spin in the vicinity of Spithead. She was accompanied by Shamrock III. The wind was light and fluky, and inadequate to test the capabilities of the challenger. Under her huge mainsail and her sloop foresail she manoeuvred handily, however, and picked up way quickly after tacking. The towering mast of the new yacht dwarfed that of the old Shamrock.

Sir Thomas Lipton was on board the challenger, together with Charles E. Nicholson, her designer, and William P. Burton, the amateur yachtsman, who is to command her in American waters.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

With the plea that the city should show its adherence to the policy that home industries should be patronized in preference to outside concerns, a deputation representing the local branch of the Manufacturers' Association will wait upon the streets committee of the City Council this afternoon. The association is energetically advancing a policy of local support for local manufacturers. All public bodies, which have the spending of funds, are to be approached with a view to securing the patronage for local concerns.

The intention of the Council was to meet the deputation at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but as a majority of the members of the board will be in attendance at the funeral of the late Mr. Robert Porter, the meeting will be deferred for half an hour.

It is expected that the committees appointed to deal with the question of the assessment levied on Pendergast Street owners for the cost of the street extension from Vancouver Street through to Heywood Street, will be ready to make its report. While the legality of the assessment is beyond dispute, the hardship that has been worked upon four owners who have been charged with one-half of the entire cost of the work, while the balance of the cost is being levied against eighteen other owners, is recognized by the Council. If some arrangement can be reached, whereby the burden upon the four owners can be eased, it will probably be approved.

Word has been received from the head office of the B. C. Telephone Company, at Vancouver, that the proposed conference between the company's heads and the City Council, relative to the underground system, must be postponed. It was intended that the conference should be held this morning or tomorrow morning, but as it will be impossible for the officials of the company to come to Victoria for some time, the date of the meeting has been fixed for the 19th inst.

PRINCE RUPERT TO BENEFIT BY PANAMA

Strategic Position of G. T. P. Terminal Attracting Attention of Ocean Steamship Lines.

One of the many ports on this Coast that will greatly benefit by the opening of the Panama Canal is undoubtedly the Northern British Columbia port of Prince Rupert. Tapping, as she does, the vast wheat-raising territories of the last Northwest, and possessing one of the finest harbors to be found on the North Coast of this Province, Prince Rupert is bound to come rapidly to the forefront when the new trade route is opened to the markets of the old world.

It is a known fact that the Grand Trunk Pacific Company have approached various ocean steamship lines with a view to establishing a service of steamers to the Northern terminal of the great transcontinental line. One of these companies is said to be the Blue Funnel Line, and, while the Alfred Holt Company is not yet prepared to send any vessels of their fleet farther North than Victoria, the extension of the Pacific Coast service is reported to be under consideration, and some specific announcement concerning the intentions of the British line will probably be made by the time the Panama Canal is in operation.

The Blue Funnel Line, operating one of the greatest freighting fleets under the British flag, like other big European steamship concerns, is planning to operate a service to this Coast via Panama, in addition to the service now maintained by way of the Far East.

According to reports from Prince Rupert the latest company to have under consideration the establishment of a line of steamers to the Northern terminal by way of the Panama Canal is Furness, Withy & Co., Ltd., of West Hartlepool, in conjunction with Houlder Bros. of London. It is said that these companies are building several large steamships for the Panama trade and that they will ply as far North as Prince Rupert.

PLAY LACROSSE AT OAK BAY IN FUTURE

Victoria Amateur Association Moves From Royal Athletic Park—Fourteen Players to Go to Vancouver.

It was announced following yesterday's lacrosse practice that the Victoria Lacrosse Association had arranged for the use of the Oak Bay Park for all future matches and practices. The association plans to put the grounds there into the best of shape, to encircle a playing pitch close to the grand stand, and to improve and increase the seating.

Players and officials are well satisfied with the change. While the Oak Bay grounds are not so conveniently situated as the Royal Athletic, they feel that in every other respect they will be better off than they were.

The selection committee decided not to make known the exact line-up of the team for Saturday's match, with the V. A. C., until the players are ready to take the field. They named the following to go over to Vancouver today: Baker, Cotton, Johnson, McInnes, McCarter, McGregor, Mitchell, Okell, Petticrew, Pottinger, Pierce, Sweeney, Taylor and Whyte.

Victoria must win tomorrow or go into last place in the Pacific Coast Amateur Lacrosse series. Two Westminster men will probably referee.

Stock Markets and Financial News

MARKET REMAINS DULL AND NARROW

Speculation Is Checked by Absence of Demand From Outside—Slight Degree of Improvement Noticeable.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Speculation suffered today from lack of stimulation, and the market was a dull affair. Fluctuations were narrow and irregular, with only occasional sharp deviations from the previous level. Nevertheless there was a good undertone, and a degree of improvement eventually was achieved.

The inquiry came principally from professional traders, and outside interests languished. During the early session the market was held back by weakness of New Haven & Lehigh Valley, which again proved to be susceptible to pressure.

Various specialties and seasoned dividend paying issues, including C. P. R., New York Central, Delaware & Hudson, American Can., Harvester and Beet Sugar were prominent in the rise.

Bonds did not share fully in the improvement shown in stocks, some issues exhibiting reactionary tendencies. Total sales, par value, $1,892,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

LONDON EXCHANGE

LONDON, June 4.—The stock markets were professional today, and outside interest was entirely lacking. In the morning prices advanced, but later they flattened on the news from Albania and the serious crisis on the St. Petersburg bourse.

Canadians were irregular. The new scrip of the Dominion of Canada loan was quoted at ⅝ premium. Canadian Pacific was slack. It advanced to 200½, but reacted and closed at 198¾. Grand Trunks, land shares and industrials were neglected.

The preparations for new issues are increasing. A bond issue for £1,028,000 for the Montreal Central Terminal Company is offered by the interests concerned in the Central Railway of Canada, but is considered speculative and is going slowly.

South American tractions were strong and Brazilian bonds were again more buoyant.

Consols declined to 73 3-16, the situation in Russia, coupled with demands for £5,000,000 by the Russian railways and for £13,000,000 by the City of Moscow, having a depressing tendency.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, June 4.—A firmer tone was displayed in the stock market today, and while price movements inclined to irregularity the general tendency was towards improvement. In a few cases decided strength was shown. Montreal Power jumped three points to 225 in the afternoon on purchases of little more than 200 shares. Shawnigan rose 1 to 133½, and the third issue in this group, Cedar Rapids, was strong in the unlisted department. Scotia rallied ½ to 55½, but Iron was easier, declining ¼ to 22½.

GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, June 4.—Winnipeg wheat opened, as compared with Monday's close, ¼ to ⅝ lower; oats, ⅛ higher; flax, ¼ up to unchanged. July wheat was steady, as compared with October, which was affected by the now brilliant crop prospects in the Canadian West, where ample rains in the country south of the railway line have put what is considered as the dry belt in excellent condition. Oats were firm and flax showed little weakness.

Crop prospects today did not bring about a sharp decline in prices, and this may be taken as an indication that there is no inflation in present values.

There was a good cash demand on the part of exporters desiring to secure stuff to fill space, but no export business is reported.

Receipts were 236 cars inspected and 250 in sight.

BANK OF ENGLAND

LONDON, June 4.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England is as follows: Reserve decreased £16,000. Circulation increased £61,000. Bullion increased £44,956. Other securities decreased £328,000. TO COMMAND SHEARWATER

Commander C. W. Trousdale Slated to Succeed Captain Walter Aboard British Sloop

Commander Charles W. Trousdale, R. N., will be the next commander of H. M. S. Shearwater, now in Southern California waters. He will succeed Commander F. H. Walter, who has been in command of the sloop for the past two years. No definite date has been set for the return of the Shearwater from Mexico. H. M. S. Algerine, which is now at Salina Cruz, will probably return to Esquimalt in July.

WAS FOUNDER OF LARGE MOVEMENT

Principle of Sacrifice Was Directing Force in Memorable Work Carried Out by Late Sir William Smith.

Sir William Alexander Smith, founder of the Boys' Brigade, who died in England a short time ago at the age of sixty, will be remembered as one of the men who rendered most valuable social service to the nation. From early manhood he was interested in the Volunteer Force, and in 1874 received a commission in the 1st Lanarkshire Rifles, retiring in 1908 with the rank of colonel. In those days he was engaged in business in Glasgow and his spare time was divided between his Volunteer service and philanthropic work among boys. He was secretary of the North Woodside Sunday School in Glasgow, but soon realized the difficulty of influencing boys for good without order and discipline. It occurred to him that the military drill and organization with which he was familiar would be of benefit in controlling and interesting the boys.

On October 4, 1883, therefore, with two colleagues, he banded together some thirty lads as "The Boys' Brigade," forming his little class into a military company for week day drills, which would implant the habits of discipline and the instinct of duty. A constitution and rules were drawn up, and it is significant of his sound judgment that the object then laid down is the same, word for word, as the object of the Boys' Brigade today: "The advancement of Christ's kingdom among boys and the promotion of habits of obedience, reverence, discipline, self-respect, and all that tends towards a true Christian manliness."

There were in those times no Boy Scouts nor any similar organization for the training of youth, and Sir William's first effort was a local one. It proved an immediate success. Within a few months companies sprang up on all sides, and the movement was taken up in England. Its simplicity and effectiveness commended itself to Churches of all denominations, and before long the movement had reached such dimensions that Sir William was faced with the choice of giving up his business or giving up the brigade. Unhesitatingly, but at great personal sacrifice, he chose the former. A headquarters office was opened, with Sir William Smith as secretary, and from that day the position of the brigade as a national movement was assured. Now the organization numbers 70,000 officers and boys in the United Kingdom and 130,000 throughout the world. From the Mother Country the movement extended to the Colonies, to Canada and Australia, and to the United States. Other organizations for boys on almost the same lines were formed, and today 250,000 youths belong to the various brigades for boys which have sprung from the organization founded by Sir William Smith, and which recognize their indebtedness to the pioneer organization. In 1898 Sir William Smith visited Canada on a tour of inspection as the guest of the Earl of Aberdeen, then Governor-General, and in 1907 he visited the United States on a similar mission.

In 1908 the semi-jubilee of the brigade was celebrated by a great review, under the command of Sir William, when Prince Arthur of Connaught was the reviewing officer. On the same occasion Sir W. Smith received a presentation from the brigade and the public of a casket containing an address, and his portrait, which now hangs in the Glasgow Art Gallery. Not long afterwards His Majesty King Edward VII. bestowed the honor of knighthood on the founder of the brigade, in recognition of his services to the boyhood of the nation.

Sir William Smith was born at Pennyland House, Thurso, on October 27, 1854, and was the son of the late Major David Smith. His first wife, who died in 1898, was Amelia Pearson, daughter of the Rev. Andrew Sutherland, chaplain to His Majesty's forces, Gibraltar. He was again married in 1906, to the daughter of the late William Campbell, of Glasgow, Hannah Ranken, who died in the following year.

His life's history is the story of the brigade, in which he leaves a place that can hardly be filled, and the memory of the services that are deeply appreciated by officers and colleagues in the work and by many thousands of Old Boys.

EMBOSSING

WE EMPLOY a large number of employees throughout the year, and money earned by them is spent in the city amongst the merchants and storekeepers, and in this way they have helped to build up some of the western stores and business concerns, so why not reciprocate and have all your printing, etc., done at home.

The purchase of $1,000 worth in goods from your own city, instead of purchasing outside, means the addition of one person to your city instead of supporting him abroad

DO YOU SEE THE POINT?

THE QUALITY IS UNEQUALED

When you want anything in the line of Printing give us a personal call, and see our samples and type faces, as they are large and varied, and the attention you receive is of the best. We consider it much more beneficial to the customer to meet us at the Office with his order, or even to submit him prices and samples, and let him consider same at his leisure, than to meet the effervescent canvasser, who generally calls on you at the wrong time, when you are busy, or not in the best of humor. A few minutes with us will do the business and save you time and money. Try it once and you will be sure to get the habit.

EXPERTS CRITICIZE YACHT SHAMROCK IV.

Two Tendencies Discernible, One That She Is Decidedly Ugly, Other That She Ought to Be Speedy

LONDON, June 4.—Yachtsmen and yachting experts here are rather chary in expressing opinions for publication relative to the new Shamrock.

The Marquis of Ormonde, commodore of the Royal Yacht Squadron, begged to be excused from discussing the matter.

The Marquis of Ailsa replied jocularly to The Herald corrrespondent's inquiry:

"Please excuse me from not prophesying until I know."

The yachting experts of the leading newspapers of London, while making no rash predictions, nevertheless discuss the new challenger for the America Cup with some frankness.

Two tendencies are discernible in their comments. One tendency is to regard the Shamrock IV. as a decidedly ugly yacht.

The Times, for instance, admits "her peculiar appearance when looked at stem on."

The Daily Telegraph refers also, in about the same words, to "her peculiar appearance."

The Morning Post says, frankly: "The yacht's aspect is clumsy and freakish, owing to the fact that her length fore and aft has been sacrificed in order that weight may be added to her keel, which runs to a great depth, with the lead bulging out on both sides at the edge and weighing more than sixty tons.

"Immediately below the water line the sides curve under until they become almost flat, while above the water line they tumble home to an extent which makes the width on deck several inches short of that of the extreme beam.

"Altogether," concludes The Morning Post, "she is not a graceful yacht, according to the accepted notions."

The second tendency is to find in her uncouth aspect the prospect of great speed. The idea possibly is that so much ugliness must have some reason, and that reason probably is a determination to sacrifice everything to swiftness.

The Times says: "There is a general concensus that she may prove a powerful and speedy boat."

The Daily Mail says: "She is technically a big boat, designed to carry an enormous sail spread."

"This," says The Mail's critic, "was made manifest when the main stick of her mast was put into place. It can not have been much less than 120 feet in length, of which a bare seven feet only was in the yacht—that is, between the deck and the stem on which it is stepped."

This critic also remarks that her long, heavy counter and pudding-ended bow will give her an extraordinary sailing length, so that, although when upright she may measure only seventy-five feet on the water line, immediately the wind pressure heels her the sailing length will be enormously increased, all of which goes for stability and speed.

The Daily Chronicle says the general impression is favorable, and it believes she will be a fast yacht in light winds and should do quite as well in heavy weather as in light seas.

A point about which the most secrecy is observed is the sail area of the Shamrock. The Times remarks that with a mast of about 160 feet and a bowsprit of only ten feet the sail scheme must be lofty and comparatively narrow.

Non-Party Press in China

It must be an interesting and exciting experience to be a journalist in China. It would appear that the newspapers there, like many newspapers in other countries, are in the habit of expressing opinions unpalatable and even repugnant to the Government. When the ruling classes find themselves assailed, their first instinct has always been suppression, and in China suppression is to be made a fine art. There is something amusingly Oriental as well as outrageous in the regulations and conditions that have been devised for putting and keeping critical newspapers in the harmless place assigned them by the Powers that Be. The president, so The Times tells us, has a confidential secretary named Liang Shih-yi, and the Chinese Press has so far forgot itself as to tell this gentleman frankly what it thinks of him. It accuses him of trying to usurp supreme power and of practicing gross personal corruption at the expense of the state—examples being freely given. Liang, possibly having no other answer ready, has determined to stifle all criticism. No man is to be allowed to edit or publish a journal until he gets permission from the police. And the police have instructions that no editor is to get a star unless his past is above suspicion and he can be trusted to support the Government through thick and thin. Large sums of money must be deposited with the police as a guarantee of good faith. And any editor who "disturbs the peace" can be fined or put in prison. Liang Shih-yi has gone a long way round to get even with his adversaries but all his plans will come to nothing. He will add fuel to the flame of the revolutionary movement, but in the end it will be Liang, not the free newspapers, that will go under.—London Citizen.
